Candidates Named by Arcadia Club

ARCADIA — Report of the nominating committee was of top interest at last week's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The report, read by Mrs. Freeman Gates, named Mrs. William Gibbs as candidate for the club presidency. Mrs. E. J. Fuerst was nominated for the office of first vice president; Mmes. Leonard C. Brooks, second vice president; William Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgmen, federation secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; E. J. Verhoef, senior trustee; Oscar Chagnon, junior trustee; Bert Schaar, ways and means, and Chester C. Anderson, program chairman.

Afternoon Program

Marjorie Bright Sharpe, introduced by Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, reviewed new books and told about well known authors during the afternoon program.

Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the Literature Section, presented her board of Mmes. C. C. Anderson, vice chairman; E. J. Fentress, recording secretary; T. R. Hughes, treasurer; P. B. Keeler, corresponding secretary; C. F. Ganther, courtesy; Rose Lane, publicity; William Moberg, coffee; G. W. Blanchard, projects; A. L. Wilson, hospitality and district chairman of literature, and J. T. Simpson, by-laws.

Aid Blind

Mrs. Richardson announced her department has decided to continue its annual project of contributing toward the translation of a magazine into braille for the blind.

Mrs. George Blanchard asked that all poetry and literature to be entered in the annual contest be turned in promptly. A booklet is published each year containing the selections.

Entries, in order to be eligible, must be written by members and must be original.

Mrs. William Adams, president, announced the district convention will be April 21 and 22 at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel. The state conclave is set for May 12-15 at the Palace Sheraton in San Francisco. Delegates from Arcadia will be Mmes. Adams, Gibbs, Alby Foy and Rose Lane.

Table and lounge decorations for the meeting were the work of Mrs. Charles Killingsworth and her committee of Mmes. William Moberg, Homer Brown, and Kenneth Leslie. All white lilies and camellias were arranged with greenery.

Sparkling Book Reviews Highlight April Meeting of Woman's Club

Members and guests of the Arcadia Woman's Club enjoyed a delightful speaker at the April 2 meeting when Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, presented Marjorie Bright Sharpe in sparkling reviews of new books and well known authors. Those who had read the books enjoyed the new highlights she provided, and those who had not, received interested incentive. Mrs. Sharpe was sponsored by the Literature Department.

Mrs. William Adams, club president, introduced Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the Literature Department, who introduced members of her board. Those present were Mmes. C. C. Anderson, vice chairman; E. J. Frentress, recording secretary; T. R. Hughes, treasurer; P. B. Keeler, corresponding secretary, C. F. Ganther, courtesy; Rose Lane, publicity; William Moberg, coffee; G. W. Blanchard, projects, A. L. Wilson, hospitality and district chairman of literature; J. T. Simpson, by-laws.

Report of the Nominating committee was read by Mrs. Freeman ates, as follows:

President, Mrs. William Gibbs; first vice president, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst; second vice president, Mrs. Leonard C. Brooks; recording secretary, Mrs. William A. Cosgrove; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd; federation secretary, Mrs. Clark Bridgman; treasurer, Mrs. Philip R. Sherk; senior trustee, Mrs. E. J. Verhoef; junior trustee, Mrs. Oscar Chag-er, ways and means, Mrs. Bert Schaar; program, Mrs. Chester C. Anderson.

Election will be held on April [illegible].

Table and lounge decor was planned and carried out by Mrs. Charles Killingsworth and her committee, Mmes. William Moberg, Homer Brown, and Kenneth Leslie. All white flowers, lilies and camellias were used, with appropriate age.

Mrs. Richardson announced that the department had decided to continue its project of contributing $15 for the purpose of transcribing a magazine into Braille for the blind. The department has sponsored this for some time.

Mrs. George Blanchard advised that all poems, articles or stories which are to be entered in annual contest must be in promptly. A booklet is published each year containing the prize-winning selections, as well as other articles written by the members.

In order to be eligible, each item must be written by the member and be original. This is a great incentive toward creative writing as well as self expression. No entry shall contain more than 250 words, and need not be typed.

Mrs. Adams announced that the district convention would be held April 21-22 at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena.

The state convention will be held at the Palace Sheraton, San Francisco, May 12-15. Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Alby Foy and Mrs. Rose Lane will be among the delegates attending from Arcadia.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Literature Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Brown, 449 Sharon Road Tuesday morning. Coffee hour will be at 9:45. Members of the department will read their own stories and poems.

Woman's Club Elects New Officers; Duo-Pianists Present Fine Program

Mrs. William Gibbs was elected president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia at the regular luncheon meeting on April 16. Taking office with her were: Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, first vice-president; Leonard Brooks, second vice-president; William Cosgrove, recording secretary; L. V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgman, federation secretary; Philip Sherk, treasurer; E. J. Verhoef, senior trustee; Oscar Chagnon, junior trustee; Bert C. Schaar, ways and means, and Chester Anderson, program chairman.

Mrs. Gibbs has long been recognized as a leader in civic and cultural projects. She organized and was first president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, and also served as vice president and president [illegible] California State CFWC Junior Membership. She was nominated as "Women of the Year" in 1957 and has been active in PTA. She served as president of Santa Anita PTA and the PTA Council, and is a member and past president of the Assistance League of Arcadia.

The new board will be installed at the traditional installation tea to be held June 4 at 1 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Mrs. William Adams, retiring president, introduced Mrs. Archy Slover, chairman of the Music department, that presented the program.

The duo-piano selection "Concerto in A Minor" played by Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, on concert grand pianos, was one of the finest programs to be given at the club. It was also the first time that a two-piano program was given there.

The artists gave a brilliant performance and received an ovation from the audience.

By request they will give a repeat performance next month at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Fellowship of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

MRS. WILLIAM GIBBS
. . . president

Mrs. Slover introduced the Music department officers as follows: Mrs. Clark Bridgman, vice chairman and program chairman; Mrs. Ariel Hoegee, recording secretary; Mrs. Lincoln Schick, treasurer; Mrs. Leroy Anderson, hospitality; Mrs. A. M. LaRay, publicity, and Mrs. E. J. Frentress, librarian.

Mrs. N. E. Stadig was in charge of decorations, Mrs. Philip Sherk and Mrs. Lyman Vollentine were chairmen of the luncheon committee. Assisting in the preparation and serving of the delightful salad-bar were Mmes. William Moberg, Oscar Chagnon, L. V. Shepherd, P. C. Ickes, E. L. Hodson, C. Ganther, E. Kaurin, E. J. Verhoef and A. L. Weickert.

Foreign Students

Mrs. Daniel Slattery presented the club with new glass coffee and tea pots, a gift much appreciated by all members.

Mrs. Mel Caines introduced two foreign exchange students, who gave brief talks on young people and family life in France and Spain, their native countries, their impressions of America, and how they would apply knowledge gained in other countries to life in their own.

Club Federation Endorses Attack on Supreme Court

By Joan McKinney
Club Editor

A two-pronged attack on the United States Supreme Court by the California Federation of Women's Clubs was affirmed by convention delegates yesterday, when resolutions were discussed and voted upon.

Unopposed from the floor was a resolution calling upon Congress to curb the "creeping encroachment" of the Supreme Court upon its legislative authority.

The only lively debate of yesterday's session was aroused by an emergency resolution demanding that appointees to the United States Supreme Court have ten years' prior experience as Judges of State supreme courts or Federal courts.

What About Warren?

"Do I understand this correctly to mean that, if such a stipulation were in force, Chief Justice Earl Warren could not have been appointed to the Supreme Court?" asked Mrs. Earl Shoesmith of Sacramento.

President Mrs. G. J. Nelson of Calipatria assured her that such was the case.

"Then," declared Mrs. Shoesmith, "I am against the California Federation of Women's Clubs taking a slap at our former Governor."

Mrs. Gerald Whitaker of Berkeley, national defense chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, also opposed the resolution.

"I believe it is an affront for this organization to dictate conditions to the Senate and to the President, who have appointed fine men to the Supreme Court," she declared.

The resolution was passed over a strong negative vote, and a later motion to reconsider was defeated.

Resolutions were passed calling for emphasis on mathematics and science subjects in elementary and high schools; evaluation of school curricula; the granting of federation scholarships to science students, and the teaching of "one or more foreign languages beginning at or near third grade."

The convention dropped resolutions on private inspection of school buses and the repeal of the license photo law, as these are already in effect.

Postponed indefinitely was a resolution commending Senator Nelson Dilworth and his committee for their services to education and the State of California.

A motion to halt nuclear testing was brought to the floor by Mrs. Arthur Sonnenberg of Tracy Women's Club, after the resolutions committee, headed by Mrs. Sylvester McAtee of Sausalito, had turned it down.

Fallout Dangers

"Because the stopping of nuclear testing would halt the spread of the arms race and because of the increasing dangers of radioactive fallout, I move that the California Federation of Women's Clubs go on record as being opposed to further nuclear testing," Mrs. Sonnenberg said.

The motion was defeated by an overwhelming vote.

Emergency resolutions were passed for stricter laws on contributing causes of juvenile crime — including "questionable radio and television programs and suggestive and obscene literature" and advertising—and for the acceleration of a program to prevent further airway accidents.

At the luncheon following yesterday's session, James Cagney was presented with an award for his portrayal in "Man of a Thousand Faces." Other awards went to Joanne Woodward, who was not present, and to Ann Blyth for public relations in the movie industry.

'Clubs Are More Than a Pastime'

By Joan McKinney
Club Editor

"If women would only devote about ten per cent of the effort to world and national betterment that they do to fashion and the sack dress, we might make some headway," foreign correspondent John Morley told the California Federation of Women's Clubs last night.

Morley spoke at a dinner honoring Junior Membership and graduate juniors.

In a press conference before his talk, Morley cited the "plus" achievements of such groups as federated women's clubs overseas.

He credited them with healing the wartime breach between women of enemy-occupied Norway and Denmark and those of neutral Sweden — a rapprochement that religious and men's and civic groups had been unable to bring about. He also gave them the nod for encouraging Middle Eastern women to drop the veil and get into the club and community swim.

But, on the currently sore subject of U.S. versus Russian educational attainments, Morley pointed an accusing finger.

Brains or Brawn?

"Women," he said, "are not blameless for American emphasis on brawn rather than brain in education. Look back to your school and college days — who were your big heroes? The 'letter' men. The intellectual ones were wallflowers, couldn't get any attention from girls."

Just returned from his 21st trip around the world on news assignments, Morley reported that "I have never felt so optimistic about world betterment."

Reasons for his optimism were the growth of religion behind the Iron Curtain — "I have never seen so many new churches or so many people going to them in the 27 years I have been covering Russia"; the resurgence of youth as the spearhead of all riots and revolts in satellite countries — "the educational program of the Communists will boomerang, as the more they educate youth, the less youth wants to be collectivized and regimented"; the split in the Kremlin — "the first time in 40 years that there has been such open war between two factions in Russia," and the increasing power of the Russian Army.

"All successful revolts in the world have been brought about by armies," Morley said, adding: "The army of Russia any day, any time, can be the factor to bring about revolt."

Election of Officers

Elections for State officers will be held this morning. Unopposed for president is Mrs. A. Frederick Benton of Merced, San Francisco-born former social worker who has been active in club work for 24 years.

"If I am elected," attractive, gray-haired Leslie Benton told the press yesterday, "I shall emphasize to the membership that clubs are not leisure time activities — they are factors in national life and world affairs."

Adult education would be stressed in her two-year regime, she said, because "public opinion is of value only if we have enough knowledge for good judgment."

On the international level, Mrs. Benton plans to promote volunteer work through such agencies as CARE.

At yesterday's awards luncheon, Mrs. William Kasper of Golden Gate District received the chairman's award for community service. Mrs. Frank Schroeder, president of Golden Gate, received the second place award for work in gerontology on behalf of the district.

Federation of Women's Clubs Winds Up Convention Here

By Joan McKinney
Club Editor

"To the rational man, total war is unthinkable, but we can't be sure that our enemy is rational. We face an enemy who recognizes no law but superior force," Brigadier General O. J. Ritland, vice commander of the Air Force Ballistic Missiles Division headquarters at Inglewood, told the California Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday.

Speaking at the closing session of the convention, General Ritland outlined the progress being made in the race for intercontinental ballistic missiles.

30-Minute Missiles

"The Atlas missile has a total explosive force equal to all the TNT dropped in all the raids on Germany during World War II," he told the delegates, adding:

"Traveling time from San Francisco to Moscow for a missile is 30 minutes. But remember, it's the same in the opposite direction."

By 1960, he warned, Russia will be capable of blasting the United States with thermonuclear weapons equal to two billion tons of TNT.

Paying tribute to science and industry as "the salvation of our future and of our national security," General Ritland emphasized the importance of developing highly-trained technicians capable of maintaining the missiles and launching them with split-second accuracy.

MRS. A. F. BENTON
New president of the CFWC

At Wednesday night's banquet, Sears-Roebuck Foundation Community Achievement awards and Josephine Seaman awards of merit for community service were announced.

Lakeview Junior Women's Club of Oakland won a second place community achievement award for the rehabilitation of an old city park as an area for senior citizens, and the establishment of a home for rehabilitation of women alcoholics.

Officers Installed

In the final convention business, Mrs. A. F. Benton of Merced, the new president and her corps of officers were installed by Mrs. William Hasebroock of West Point, Neb., chairman of the fine arts depa[illegible] General Feder[illegible] en's Clubs.

Verdugo District CFWC to Elect Officers At Annual Convention at Huntington

Continuing the theme of the administration, "The Mind to Know, the Heart to Love, the Will to Serve," two-year-old Verdugo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs' second convention with Mrs. F. Louis Arnold general chairman, will convene in the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel, Pasadena, April 21 and 22. Election, installation of officers and presentation of awards will highlight the two-day event.

Registration opens at 8:15 a.m. April 21 as delegates and visitors from the 25 clubs forming this district gather. Mrs. Dwight R. Young, president, will call the convention to order at 9 a.m. Mrs. Robert Greene, president of Woman's Club of South Pasadena, club hostessing the convention, will introduce the Hon. Seth Miller, mayor of Pasadena, and Joel Sheldon, representative of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. The election polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Giving a youth's viewpoint on housing, customs, education and religion by comparison of his country and ours, Hannes Friedrich, an exchange student from Germany sponsored by the American Friends Service, is the luncheon speaker. Other activities at the conclave will include routine business, amendments to by-laws and reports of officers, chairmen and club presidents.

The 7 p.m. awards banquet honoring one hundred presidents and vice-presidents is the center of interest. Mrs. Robert Wah Lee, president of the Verdugo Metropolitan District, Junior Membership, will tell of the year's accomplishments of that group. Mrs. Glenn R. Cook, program chairman, will present a 30 voice boys' choir selected by audition from the various Pasadena schools, in a concert of secular and sacred numbers conducted by the prominent Dr. John Henry Lyons, former music director in the Pasadena city school system whose present main interest is his Boys' Choir.

Tuesday, state president's day will feature Mrs. G. J. Nelson, president California Federation of Women's Clubs, as special guest speaker. Culminating two years of planning, an outstanding musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Lee O. Tenney, district music chairman, to be rendered by a combined chorus of Verdugo District club members directed by J. Arthur Lewis.

JUNIORS HONOR MOTHERS AT ANNUAL EVENT

Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club honored their mothers at a lovely buffet luncheon Saturday at the Rancho Hillcrest in Pasadena.

The Juniors presented their mothers and guests with corsages and introduced them to the members. Mrs. Wililam Hurter, president, introduced the special guests for the afternoon, Mrs. William Gibbs and Mrs. William Adams, senior and junior coordinators of the Woman's Club.

The tables were gaily decorated with miniature hats in pastel colors and surrounded with beautiful fresh flowers. Mrs. K. B. Anderson, handicraft chairman, was in charge of the decorating.

The highlight of the afternoon was the reading of the past president's report on the highly successful year which the club just completed under the retiring president, Mrs. Edward Schaar.

The most successful afternoon was credited to the chairman, Mrs. Norman Tepper and her committee: Mmes. Wade Burchell, John Nelson, Kenneth Ward, James Kellogg, Lee Darrow and John Link.

Board Presents Junior Club With Silver Tea Service

On behalf of the 1957-58 board members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. Edward Schaar, junior past president, presented the club with a silver tea and coffee service at the meeting last week.

During the business session of the meeting, Mrs. J. L. Horseley, ways and means chairman, reported on plans for the spring dance, "Night in Paris," to be held at Santa Anita Turf Club June 14. Proceeds of the affair, which is open to the public, will be used to further the club's philanthropy work.

Mrs. Kenneth Michel announced the need for stamps to help in the rehabilitation of hospitalized servicemen. Sought are commemorative U.S. stamps of any denomination; all foreign stamps; any partially filled albums; all U.S. stamps other than the common 1-cent, 1½-cent, 2-cent, 3-cent and 6-cent airmail. They may be sent to Mrs. Michel, 5537 N. Cochin Ave., Arcadia.

Mrs. Richard Davidson, philanthropy chairman, announced plans for a rummage sale, asking that anyone who would like to contribute saleable items contact her at Hillcrest 6-1519.

Program for the evening was presented by Cannell and Chaffin, furniture and interior designers, who presented a talk on home decorating with slides of model homes.

Lucy Wyss Honored by Woman's Club

"Perfect attendance for 10 years" is the record chalked up by Mrs. Lucy Wyss, at the Woman's Club of Arcadia. At last week's meeting of the club she was presented with a decorated cake holding 10 candles, and with a paid-up membership for next year.

Mrs. Wyss, who will be 82 years old next January, is a gay, active person who brings happiness wherever she goes.

Last year, the Woman's Club presented her with a lovly pin for perfect attendance.

In addition to her club activities, and she has been a member of several departments, Mrs. Wyss is an ardent worker in the Arcadia Presbyterian Church. She teaches the 2 and 3-year-olds in Sunday School and has been doing this for 16 years. She joined the church 18 years ago and is a member of the Women's Association. She received a certificate of appreciation from the church for her service.

Mrs. Wyss is secretary and treasurer of her church circle, is secretary of the Arcadia-Temple City WCTU, is a member of the Arcadia Historical Society, and is in the San Anselmo and El Cavarillo Auxiliaries.

In addition to this she has three hobbies, makes braided rugs, for which she has many orders, makes dogbone television pillows and still makes "whiz" soap.

Woman's Club Makes Awards at Final Luncheon Meeting of Year

As Arcadia Woman's Club held its final luncheon of the year last week, awards were made including a scholarship to an Arcadia High School girl, and special honor was paid to Mrs. Lucy Wyss who has completed her 10th year of perfect club attendance.

Ann Marsh was recipient of the scholarship, presentation of which was made by Mrs. E. J. Fentress, chairman of the philanthropy committee. She will enter the University of Michigan next fall, majoring in science.

Mrs. Wyss was presented with her club dues for the coming year and a decorated cake with 10 candles. Others given recognition for 100-per-cent attendance during the past year were Mmes. C. F. Noack, Freeman Gates, Chester Anderson and William Adams.

Awards

The Evening Department, who sponsored the luncheon and program for the day, was presented awards for its many achievements of the year. The presentation was made by club president, Mrs. Adams, and accepted on behalf of the department by Mrs. Earl Towsley, chairman.

Members of Mrs. Towsley's board and committee for the day were Mmes. Bert Schaar, Ke[illegible] Turner, Jack Moore, William Moore, James Frazier, George Derry, J. W. Scheuer and Robert Dennis.

Mrs. J. W. Watson and Mrs. Philip Sherk were co-chairmen of the luncheon, assisted by Mmes. L. K. Campbell, L. B. Hass, C. L. Johnson, R[illegible] [illegible], R. W. W[illegible] and H. W. G[illegible].

With the installation the next Wednesday, the club year will be completed. Meetings resume in October.

Club Department Installs Officers At Chagnon Home

Mrs. Oscar Chagnon was hostess to the International Affairs Department of Arcadia Woman's Club at her home on Carmelita Place last week when installation of officers for the coming year was the opening event of the day.

Mrs. Archie Wilson, past president of the club, was installing officer. Her theme was "From Horizon to Horizon."

Those accepting office were Mrs. N. E. Stadig, chairman; Mrs. A. L. Melzian, vice-chairman; Mrs. John Richardson, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Snyder, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Hannah, hospitality, and Mrs. Richard S. Cole, publicity and scrap-book.

Most of the guests enjoyed a swim, followed by a pot-luck luncheon. Wives of two foreign students at Caltech were guests, Mrs. George Johanssen and Mrs. P. Feija, and Mrs. Cole's daughter, Mrs. Paul Salisbury of Orlando, Fla. Each guest was presented with a lovely cake as a memento.

The department has presented the club with 15 tea and coffee pots, and an adequate number of glass salt and pepper shakers. The sum remaining in the treasury will be given to the "Meals for Millions" fund, which originated in Los Angeles, and which this department has been able to add to the list of philanthropies for the past year.

The department has entertained many foreign guests at regular meetings, and also in the homes, and expects to greatly expand the scope this coming year.

Junior Clubbers Seek Items for Rummage Sale

"If you don't want it, we do!" said members of Arcadia Junior Woman's Club as they set out to gather articles for their June 21 rummage sale.

They are collecting all bric-a-brac, men's, women's and children's clothing, shoes, dishes, toys, books, glassware, cookware, usable furniture and other articles no longer needed. Proceeds of the sale will go toward the club's philanthropy work.

The sale will be conducted at the clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave., on Saturday, June 21, from 9 to 4 p.m.

Anyone with articles to contribute may call Mrs. Richard Davidson, HIllcrest 6-1519, or Mrs. Richard Kramb, HIllcrest 7-7583.

Junior Woman's Club Members to Exhibit Art

Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club will be exhibiting their paintings at the Fourth Annual Arts and Crafts Fair, sponsored by St. Catherine's Guild of the Church of the Ascension in Sierra Madre Saturday.

Showing art work will be Mrs. H. Kenneth Ward, Mrs. Charles Coulter, Mrs. Harold Libby, and Mrs. Walter Garrison.

The Arcadia Juniors' Penny Arts department recently placed third in the State of California at the California Federation of Woman's Clubs Junior Membership Convention held at Coronado. The purpose of the department is to stimulate interest in art activities to the club members. Mrs. Walter Garrison is chairman.

Musical Scale Theme Used to Install Officers of Club's Music Department

Music Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia installed officers May 27 at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ariel Hoegee.

Mrs. William Adams, junior past president of the Woman's Club, was installing officer and her interesting and unique ceremony was based on Isaac Newton's color scale. More than 300 years ago Newton saw color in the musical scale with each note being a different color. Mrs. Adams likened the various offices to the notes on the scale.

Chairman Mrs. Archie Slover will lead the group for another year. Taking office with her were: Mrs. Leonard Cartwright, vice chairman; Mrs. Jayne Childrey, recording secretary; Mrs. Lincoln Schick, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel Nock, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. J. Frentress, librarian; Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, chorus director; Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman, hospital, and Mrs. Alfred LaRay, publicity.

Miss Sue Evans and Paul Stewart, members of the San Gabriel Valley Light Opera Association, sang numbers from their current production of "Oklahoma."

Mrs. Cartwright, who is playing for the production, accompanied on piano.

Following the program, members and guests enjoyed the department's annual potluck buffet.

Those present were Mmes. Eric Stadig, E. J. Frentress, Waldo Greiner, Charles Stewart, Della Cox, M. M. Trew, Emillie Loeffler, May Snyder, William Vogel, Harvey Thoombs, Clark Bridgeman, Archie Wilson, Charles Ganther, William Adams, Leonard Cartwright, Harvey Moss, Archie Slover, Anita Doyle, Jane Childrey, Ted Danziart, Ariel Hoegee, LeRoy Anderson, Alby Foy, Jim Day, Alfred LaRay, Samuel Nock, Ahlert Stuhrman, Nick Laushkin and Thomas Kemp.

Mrs. Kemp, who was accompanied by her Lisa, her 6-month-old baby, was warmly welcomed by the department.

Garden Section To Install New Officers

The Garden and Home Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will install new officers Wednesday at a potluck luncheon. With Mrs. M. R. Clark as installing officer, Mrs. Earl Dettra will take over duties of the chairman.

Others taking office will be Mrs N. E. Stadig, vice-chairman; Mrs Charles Ganther, treasurer; Mrs Richard Cole, recording secretary, and Mrs. C. F. Noack, corresponding secretary.

Arcadia Officers Revealed

ARCADIA — Mrs. T. E. Wills, president of Los Angeles District, C.F.W.C., at the time it was divided into six districts, and currently a member of the state resolutions committee, last week installed officers of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The exquisitely appointed installation tea was given at the clubhouse on First avenue with Mrs. William D. Gibbs presented the gavel as new president.

Candlelight Ceremony

The ceremony was conducted on stage where a table had been centered with a large burning candle. Each officer, as she stepped forth, lighted a beribboned smaller taper with the entire scene, when completed, creating a birthday cake effect.

Mrs. Gibbs, prominent young social and civic leader in the city, will be assisted by a board comprised of Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, first vice president; Leonard Brooks, second vice president; Bert Schaar, third vice president; Chester Anderson, fourth vice president; William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgman, federation secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; Edward J. Verhoef, senior trustee, and Oscar Chagnon, junior trustee.

Tea Hour

Pink and white, the club colors, were featured at the tea at which past presidents presided. Silver services graced each end of the table which had been centered with a magnificent bouquet of delicate pink peonies and stock flanked with pink candles.

Mrs. Gibbs, welcoming guests along with Mrs. William Adams, retiring president, was in a pale blue brocade gown. Her shoulder corsage of white orchids was a gift from her husband in marking not only her club elevation to president, but their [illegible] wedding anniversary.

Candlelight Ceremony Installs Club Officers

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, new president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia and members of her executive board were installed by Mrs P. E. Willis, a past president of Los Angeles District, C.F.W.C. at the recent installation tea in the clubhouse.

Following a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. William Adams, the officers to be installed, dressed in pastel formals filed onto the stage, which had been decorated with a profusion of foilage and pink and white flowers.

Mrs. Willis used a colorful candlelight ceremony, in which each candle was lighted from a large "Federation Candle" and then put into place to form a circle of friendship and service.

Mrs. Adams, retiring president, gave the president's pin and gavel to the new president.

Taking office with Mrs. Gibbs were: Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, first vice-president; Leonard C. Brooks, second vice-president, Chester C. Anderson, third vice-president (program); Bert C. Schaar, fourth vice-president (Ways and Means); William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary, Clark Bridgman, federation secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer. Edward J. Verhoef, Senior Trustee, Oscar Chagnon, Junior Trustee.

Tea Table

Delicious refreshments were served at the beautifully appointed tea table on which pink cloths were used centered by a beautiful arrangement of pink peonies and larkspur in a pink ceramic bowl, and pink candles in silver holders.

Arrangements for the tea were under the direction of Mrs. Gibbs, hospitality chairman of the past year. Those assisting her were: Mmes. Russell H Lucas, Bert C. Schaar, J. K. Weems, Charles L. Johnson, Herbert W. Glidden, and John Richardson.

Among the past presidents of the club who poured were: Mmes. G. G. Meade, Charles W. Stewart, John R. Ross, Ray Allen Young, Bert J. Morris, J. K. Weems, Charles F Ganther, Earl H. Dettra and Archie L. Wilson.

Those present were Mmes. Oscar Chagnon, Leonard C. Brooks, Lyman Vollintine, Robert Wingo, Lawrence V. Shepherd, Ahlert Stuhrman, Phillip Sherk, Edward J. Verhoef, and William Gibbs, the new president. Mrs. J. W. Watson was unable to be present.

JUNIOR CLUB'S 'NIGHT IN PARIS' SET SATURDAY

Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club and their guest will be spending a gay "Night in Paris," at the Santa Anita Turf Club, when they hold their annual spring dance Saturday.

The cocktail hour will be from 8 to 9, with door prizes donated by merchants of Arcadia. Free cocktails for the lucky number holder, and many more delightful surprises have been planned for the evening.

Guests will dance to the music of Bill Roberts and his orchestra, and adding to their delight will be can-can girls selling chances and taking pictures.

The lounge of the turf club will be gaily decorated with a seven-foot Eiffel Tower, with a Paris street scene in the background. The tables will be bubbling with frosty pink champagne glasses flowing over with pink bubbles onto black sparkling net.

Mrs. J. L. Horsley, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. Harold Libby, her assistant, will turn the proceeds over to the phalanthropy program of the Arcadia Juniors.

Last year's proceeds helped toward the $2,000 the club gave toward their philanthropy work.

Assisting Mrs. Horsley for the entertining evening will be Mmes. J. S. Williams, Richard Carlson, John Link, James Wilson, Kenneth Michel, Warren Buschman, Lillian Dahl, LaVerne Hubbard, Richard Clucas, Fred Bush and Edward Frank.

Tickets are still available at $5 a couple from Mrs. Robert Fiscus, Hillcrest 7-4946.

Exchange Students Speak at Meeting Of Junior Women

An international relations program was presented to the members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club by the Arcadia Chapter of the American Field Service International program.

Mrs. Dean Bowler, director of the program, introduced Edward Lojeskie, a student of Arcadia High School who left this week to spend three months in Germany. He will live with a German family and attend school there. He was chosen by a committee consisting of members of the AFS, and faculty members of the high school.

Miss Karen Bassford, another student of Arcadia High School, who spent six months studying in New Zealand under this exchange program, told of her experiences living in a foreign country and of the wonderful opportunity that the program presents to young people to study other countries. The purpose of the program is to promote understanding between the peoples of the world and it is offered to students from 16 to 18 years of age. It has been found that these students have not formed very definite prejudices and [illegible] and can readily recognize that people are the same the world over. ANTI-RABIES

Junior Women to Co-Sponsor Clinic Project Tuesday

The Junior Woman's Clubs of Arcadia and Temple City, in co-operation with the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association, will jointly sponsor a rabies vaccination clinic Tuesday evening, July 8, from 7 to 9 p.m., in Hinshaw's parking lot, Arcadia. The fee will be $1.50 per animal. Licenses will also be available at that time.

Community service clubs throughout Los Angeles County are sponsoring these clinics to enable pet owners to have their pets vaccinated at a nominal charge. Under state, county and city laws all dogs must be vaccinated. These clinics will be coordinated by the Los Angeles County Pound Deparement.

The public is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to have their pets protected against rabies. The vaccine used will be of chick embryo origin which offers immunity against rabies for not less than two years. The county pound department will provide dog handlers and the two junior clubs will be in charge of clerical work.

Juniors from Arcadia will include Mmes. William Hurter, Richard Carlson, Lillian Dahl, Richard Hall, James Williams, J. L. Horsley, Lee Darrow, Robert Kidd, Bernard Pixley and Kenneth Michel.

Those from the Temple City club will be Mmes. Ernest Lommatsch, Raymond Peters, Jack Babcock, Adam Kloss, Ronald Wells and Henry Bremer.

Women's Clubs to Join CARE in Aid to Oversea School Children

Uniting behind CARE in its program to assist the needy overseas, Junior and Senior branches of the California Federation of Women's Clubs today launched a $100,000 program to send school kits to the refuge children of Hong Kong and Viet Nam.

Mrs. A. F. Benton, Merced, and Mrs. George Krueger, La Mesa, senior and junior state presidents, respectively, made the announcement following unanimous action by the boards of the two groups.

The school supplies, including copy books, pencils, erasers, rulers and other items without which the children are not permitted to attend school, will go in $100 CARE packages for which the clubs will contribute funds at the rate of $1 a member. Some will conduct special fund-raising campaigns for the purpose and some will enlist the support of youth groups in their communities, the officers have reported.

Spokesman for the groups pointed out that schooling is not free for these refugees, but subject to tuition paid by the parents, if able, by fishing industries and other groups in some cases. Without supplies, it has been emphasized, the children are not permitted to attend classes.

"The activity is in keeping with the International Relations objective of our club programs and is on a person-to-person or woman-to-woman basis," a statement issued by the two women said. "The project is in keeping with the highest ideals of our clubs, is endorsed by the General Federation and has the support of our club membership. We regard it as one of the most important and rewarding tasks we have undertaken and hope for an early realisation of our $100,000 goal. We are asking our women to contribute a 'dollar a scholar' for the 100,000 refugees in the two countries."

Contributions in any amount may be sent to CARE, 215 West 5th Street, Los Angeles 13.

Dogs Stage Big Turnout for Rabies Clinic

A large segment of Arcadia's canine population yipped through a special clinic last Tuesday night, returned to their homes sore but safe for another year.

Occasion was the rabies inoculation clinic sponsored by the Southern California Veterinary Association and the Los Angeles Pound.

Set up for the convenience of dog-owners who wished to have their pets inoculated, and to obtain 1958-59 licenses at the same time, the clinic handled 778 canines in a two-hour period.

Officials said the turnout may be the largest recorded at a clinic held in Los Angeles County this year.

Facilities to handle a maximum of 400 dogs an hour were set up in the parking lot at the West Arcadia business section. And the facilities were taxed almost to the limit to handle the big turnout.

In the high pressure confusion, the financial tally, geared to keep up with the inoculation count at $1.50 per dog, fell behind and ended in the red by about $120.

Officials said that persons who have unstamped certificates of inoculation for their dogs may have them stamped at the Arcadia Animal Clinic, 311 N. Santa Anita Ave.

Year's Projects Announced After CFWC Junior Meet

Plans for inter-club competition projects for the year were announced by the California Federation of Women's Club's, Junior Membership, following a state-wide meeting of board members held in Arcadia recently.

Juniors of the Verdugo-Metropolitan District hosted the meeting here.

Mrs. Donald Amato, dean of chairmen, in announcing the inter-club competition, said nearly 8500 women in the 230 clubs belonging to CFWC (Junior Membership) would vie for accomplishment awards for projects promoted by their clubs between March 1, 1959.

Special awards also will be made this year to an outstanding district coordinator of the year and a citizen of the year.

Projects to be undertaken include ad[illegible] for the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and health programs, [illegible] leading to better TV programming, to be sponsored by the [illegible] sections; writing of a teenage code of ethics by the ethics groups; establishment of Teacher Appreciation [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in a [illegible] campaign.

The clubs will attempt to find homes for Korean officers attending the California schools, and will sponsor [illegible] [illegible] scholarships for summer field schools for teachers.

400 ENTRANTS DUE FOR TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Kramer to Officiate at Opening

Approximately 400 young tennis players will converge on Arcadia Monday for opening competition in the Tenth Annual Public Parks Junior Tennis Championships.

Here to welcome the players and spectators will be Jack Kramer, world famous tennis professional and promoter. Kramer, repeating his role of a year ago, will officially open the tournament.

Entries have been received from throughout the United States and Hawaii, according to Al Coke, president of the sponsoring Arcadia Kiwanis Club and general manager of the week-long event. Three new states will be represented in the tournament this year, Coke stated, including Alabama, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Honoring the yearly competition, Mayor Elton Phillips this week issued this proclamation:

PROCLAMATION

"Whereas, the National Public Parks Junior Tennis Tournament, with entrants from throughout the United States, will be held in Arcadia, July 28 to August 3, 1958;

Now, therefore, I, Elton D. Phillips, Mayor of the City of Arcadia, do hereby proclaim the week of July 28 to August 3, 1958, as Arcadia Tennis Week."

Sharing sponsorship honors with the Kiwanis Club is the Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation.

For the past two months, qualifying tournaments have been held in various parts of the country as well as at several points in California.

TROPHIES

The winners of these preliminary events will arrive in Arcadia ready to battle for trophies and rankings that go to the champions in this national event.

The tournament is open to boys and girls in age brackets from 16 to 18, and 15 and under, based upon their age as of last January 1. According to Coke, there will be players here from 16 states, Hawaii, and more than 75 cities. Among the competitors will be at least five State Junior Champions, he said.

Allan Jaynes, Kiwanis chairman for the event, said that the Club is going all-out to provide the

Free lunches will be served daily to all entrants by the wives of Kiwanis members. And each evening the young people will enjoy free entertainment.

The schedule includes a western chuck wagon complete with entertainment; an evening at the Arcadia Pool where professional under-water experts and diving champions will perform; a night at Disneyland; a barbecue, and a dance at the high school sponsored by the Recreation Department and the Parent-Teacher Association.

Housing for approximately 100 of the entrants is being sought here by the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club. Arcadians who are interested in having a contestant as a guest in their home are asked to call Mrs. Richard Carlson, at Hillcrest 7-9785 or Lillian Dahl, at Hillcrest 7-0477.

Verdugo District Executive Board To Study Budget

On Monday, Aug. 4, the Executive Committee of the Verdugo District, CFWC, will meet at 9:30 a.m. at headquarters, 408 N. Central Ave., Glendale, with the president, Mrs. Howard Chandler, presiding. Following at 10:30 a.m. the Executive Board will meet to conduct a budget study preparatory to drafting the budget for the coming year. There will be a noon luncheon with board members providing their own sandwiches, at which time tea and coffee will be served.

Mrs. Chandler has announced the appointment of Mrs. P. E. Willis as resolutions chairman for the district, subject to ratification. Mrs. Willis, a member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, is junior past president of the former Los Angeles District, CFWC, and is now a member of the resolutions committee, CFWC.

Another member of Verdugo District, and now state chairman for conservation of natural resources, Mrs. J. B. Atkisson of the Altadena Woman's Club, has been appointed a member of the Advisory Council of California Public Outdoor Recreation Plan Committee. This council is composed of organizations which represent the public's interest in the growth of outdoor recreational areas and facilities. This committee will make an intensive review of all factors affecting public outdoor recreation in the foreseeable future. They will inventory existing facilities, estimate future needs, and develop a preliminary program and procedure for the administration and financing of recreational areas and facilities in California.

Women's Clubs Assist With Tennis Tourney

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club is handling housing arrangements for the out-of-state young people who will participate in the 10th annual National Public Parks Tennis Tournament to be held in Arcadia July 27 to Aug. 3. The Juniors are being assisted by the Senior Woman's Club. The tennis event is sponsored by the Arcadia Kiwanis Club, and Al Coke, Allen Jaynes and Bert Schaar are in charge of arrangements for the meals and transportation of the entrants while in Arcadia.

Mrs. William Gibbs, Senior Woman's Club president, and Mrs. Richard Carlson, Build a Better Community chairman of the Junior Woman's Club, and their committee are making arrangements for the housing.

Hohnsbeen, junior coordinator and Miss Olive F. Alvarez, press.

The noon program will be in the form of an Hawaiian kick-off luncheon for the district ways and means project, a sponsored eight-day Hawaiian tour, Oct. 31-Nov. 8. Decorations will be in the Hawaiian motif with orchids, leis, pineapples, banners, etc., for table displays. Recorded Hawaiian music will be played & members will wear costumes during the lunch hour.

Earl Kennedys Host Event for Evening Group

Evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia recently held its salad bar luncheon at the pool of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Kennedy. Mrs. Jack Bosworth, chairman, conducted a short business meeting to plan further ways and means for the department's philanthropy work and summer activities.

Mrs. Eggleston from the Child Welfare Bureau gave a detailed speech and answered questions concerning the foster children in the San Gabriel Valley and Arcadia area. For the past several years, the Evening Department has presented Christmas gifts and furnished various needs throughout the year for 200 of these foster children. Her talk was very informative as to the problems and work that the bureau is confronted with.

The salad buffet was supplied and served by the new board members. Mrs. William Gibbs, president of the Women's Club of Arcadia, enjoyed the luncheon and swimming along with Mmes. Earl D Kennedy, hostess, Jack Bosworth, George M. Derry, Anthony Anger, Doyle Lindley, Earl Hadady, Jack Moore, Robert Titgemeyer, Joseph Scheuer, Kel Turner, James Fraser, Paul Malling, Earl Towsley, Clifton Niederhaus, William Marquardt, Robert Clark, Jay Lesh, William Motley, and Ken Brayton.

Verdugo District CFWC Plans Hawaiian Tour

The first Hawaiian Tour to be sponsored by a district in CFWC is planned by Verdugo District for Oct. 31 to Nov. 8 as their chief ways and means project of the year.

A super constellation, one of the "Royal Hawaiians" with pressurized and air-conditioned cabin, has been reserved for the flight over the Pacific. Mrs. Howard Chandler, District president will take the tour with members of the district.

In addition to transportation and hotel accomodations, the trip includes an authentic luau, an Aloha dinner, luncheon at Waioli Tearoom, the site of Robert Louis Stevenson's grass shack, and several motor tours in the Honolulu area. An especial highlight will be a ride in an outrigger canoe.

In addition to the principal ways and means project for the year, the Hawaiian tour, Mrs. Irvin H. Morley, Director-at-large and ways and means chairman, has arranged for a "District Get Acquainted Party" with all clubs in the district participating.

In the form of a luncheon and card party, this will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 12 noon at the Town and Country Club, 2290 Country Club Drive, Altadena.

The committee composed of Mrs. Morley, chairman and Mmes. Edward D. Wyhe, John W. Marshall, Lloyd E. Wyatt, William Hanson, Paul Shatter and Thomas B. Roscoe, have adopted the slogan, "Good luncheon, good prizes, good parking, good friends. Let's have a good time together."

Bridge, Canasta, 500 and Pinochle will be played with guests bringing their own cards.

Tickets are available now from Mrs. Lloyd E. Wyatt, 1749 N. Madison Ave., Pasadena. Deadline for reservations is Sept. 6.

Juniors to Stage Benefit Hawaiian Luau in Exotic Setting on Aug. 23

A Hawaiian luau will be the summer social event of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club on Aug. 23. The proceeds from the luau will go to the San Gabriel Valley Cerebral Palsy School to purchase equipment for the children. The club will hold the luau at the new Stuart Pharmaceutical building in Pasadena.

This building is considered to be one of the most outstanding buildings in the world and is equal to the Taj Mahal for its beauty. The designer was Edward Stone A.I.A. who has designed the United States Embassy at New Delhi, India, and the United States Pavilion at the Brussels World Fair. There will be no need for the members to decorate as the use of exotic tropical planting both inside and out are with the keeping of the theme.

Swimming will be in the beautiful oval [illegible] pool from 7 to 8:30 and the cocktail hour will be held at this time. Dinner will be served from 8:30 to 9:30 in Hawaiian style with the serving tables decorated with strips of tapa cloth and banana leaves. Serving dishes will be of monkey pod bowls and the torches will surround the tables. Punch will be served in an ice bowl with light shining through [illegible].

Dancing will be in the exotic golden pavilion overlooking the pool. The beautiful gold decorated columns and brass grill work surrounding the reflection pool add to to the beauty of the building. The music will be provided by the entertaining and lively orchestra of Beill Roberts, who appears at California's leading hotels. Those attending the "Night In Paris Dance" given by the Juniors were thrilled with his music and requested his appearance again.

The luau will be open to the public and reservations must be in by Aug. 20. Five dollars per person, includes swimming, dinner, dancing and a fun-filled evening. Phone Mrs. J. L. Horsley, HIllcrest 6-[illegible]. Anyone wishing to purchase a [illegible] as a contribution to the Cerebral Palsy Foundation may send a check to Mrs. J. L. Horsley, [illegible] W. Norman, Arcadia. The Juniors making the arrangements for the affair are: Mmes. Horsley, ways and means chairman, J. S. Williams, Richard Carlson, John Link, James Wilson, Kenneth Michel, Lillian Dahl, LaVerne Hubbard, Fred Bush, Edward Frank, Robert Fiscus, H. W. Brisley, Thomas Buchanan, Lawrence Kelly, Harold Libby.

Mrs. Gagnon Named Dean Of Chairmen

Mrs. William Hurter, president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, has named Mrs. Kenneth Gagnon as Dean of Chairmen.

The following will serve on her committee:

Mmes. Lillian Dahl, Americanism; Mrs. Richard Carlson, build a better community; Mrs. K. B. Anderson, craft; Mrs. J. S. Williams, bulletins; Mrs. Lawrence Kelly, courtesy; Mrs. Fred Bush, ethics; Mrs. Charles Coulter, hospitality; Mrs. Richard Hunter, home; Mrs. H. Kenneth Ward, historian; Mrs. Warren Buschmann, international affairs; Mrs. Fred Johnston, mental health; Mrs. Richard Hall, Mrs. Bernard Pixley, publicity and press book; Mrs. Kenneth Michel, stamps for the wounded; Mrs. William Derr, youth; Mrs. Jack McCarville, telephone tree; Mrs. Robert Fiscus, secret sister.

Reports from all the newly selected chairmen will be given at the first meeting held Sept. 24.

Juniors Hold Membership Party Today

'Junior Clubbers Devote Summer Activities to Philanthropy Work

Although there have been no scheduled meetings, the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club has been devoting the summer to philanthropy work in the community. The summer started off with their "Night In Paris Dance" at Santa Anita Turf Club, the proceeds going toward various philanthropies. Mrs. Richard Davidson, philanthropy chairman, held a rummage sale and will turn the proceeds over to the Verdugo Metropolitan District C.F.W.C. Junior membership when they select their philanthropy for the year.

The club housed 100 boys and girls from all over the United States and Hawaii in the 10th annual Public Parks Junior Tennis Championships held in Arcadia. Some 400 young tennis players participated in this national event. Mrs. Richard Carlson, Build-A-Better-Community chairman, was in charge of the housing arrangements.

Mrs. William Derry, youth chairman, has been active in helping to form the San Gabriel Valley Group for Decent Literature. This group's cause is "to aid in the protection of children, who despite parental guidance, are exposed to obscene and indecent literature." The local retail dealers are asked to remove objectionable literature and in cooperating with the group are awarded a certificate. Mrs. Walter Garrison, arts chairman, has painted posters and displayed them in store windows telling of the aims of the organization.

In cooperation with the Temple City Juniors and the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association the club jointly sponsored a rabies vaccination clinic this summer, with members serving as clerks.

The most recent social event was a Luau held at the Stuart Company in Pasadena. The proceeds from this event will go to the San Gabriel Valley Cerebral Palsy School.

The ways and means projects of the club are under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Horsley and Mrs. Harold Libby. Regular scheduled meetings will start this month under the new president, Mrs. William Hurter.

Garden Section Plans Last Summer Party

The last of the summer parties sponsored by the Garden and Home Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will be Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the home of Mrs. Homer Brown, 449 Sharon Road.

A salad luncheon will be served at 11:30, followed by bridge, canasta or swimming. Those who would enjoy a swim before lunch are invited to come at 10:30.

Arcadia Woman's Club Plans Santa Anita Benefit Dance

ARCADIA — Announcement of a benefit dance Nov. 29 at Santa Anita Turf club featured this week's opening meeting of the evening department of the Arcadia woman's club.

Dance Committee

Mrs. James Frazer has been appointed dance chairman. She will be assisted by Mmes. Paul Malling, Lee Ekins, Ronald Franzen, Jay Lesh, Robert Clark and Carl Hoglund. Proceeds will benefit the department's half orphan fund.

The residence of Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer, 305 San Miguel Dr., Arcadia, was the setting for this season's initial session. Mrs. Ken Brayton and Mrs. Anthony Anger assisted the hostess.

Year's Program

Mrs. Joseph Bosworth, chairman, conducted the business meeting devoted to a discussion of philanthropy activities for the ensuing year. Featured project is the half orphan group whose members will receive skirts made by club members.

Program feature of the evening was an address by Mrs. Wright, fashion consultant, whose topic was "New Look in Fall Fashions." The speaker discussed the bright hues which this season's fashion picture dictates and the new shorter skirt length. Also discussed was the new bulky look of this year's styles.

Woman's Club Evening Department Opens New Year, Plans Activities

Evening department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia commenced the winter meetings, Monday night, Sept. 15 at the home of Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer 305 San Miguel Dr. Mrs. Ken Brayton and Mrs. Anthony Anger assisted as hostesses.

Mrs. Joseph Bosworth chairman, conducted the business meeting which concerned the department's social and philanthropy activities for the coming year. She announced the department's lack of funds to take care of an additional 104 half-orphans. Members voted to donate the material they make into skirts for the teenage group at Christmas time.

Dance Chairman

Mrs. James Frazer has been appointed chairman for the coming dance at the Santa Anita Turf Club, Nov. 29. She will be assisted by Mmes. Paul Malling, Lee Ekins, Ronald Franzen, Jay Lesh, Robert Clark and Carl Hoglund. Proceeds from this dance go into the philanthropy fund for the department's half orphan project.

Mrs. Wright, fashion consultant of Robinson's Pasadena store, gave an interesting talk on the "New Look in Fall Fashions." According to Mrs. Wright, the bulky look is here to stay but clothes will be tailored just enough to let people know there is a woman inside them. Colors are bright and vivid with the whole ensemble matching even to colored stockings and shoes. The recommended length of skirts is two to three inches below the knee. However, Mrs. Wright feels that one should consider these three rules on this proverbial question: one, the leg shape, two, becomingness with comfort, and last but certainly not least, whatever your husband prefers.

Guests

Other members also present were Mmes. George Derry, Joseph Scheuer, Earl Kennedy, Jack Moore, Clifton Niederhaus, Jack Wagner, Thomas Kemp, Alan Langlois, Earl Hadady, William Marquardt, Dene Christie, William Petersilge, Lester Lee, Earl Towsley, Lyman La Tourette and Keith Hagberg. Guests were Mrs. D. Goodnight and Mrs. James Skinner.

James Frazers to Host Dinner Party

Members of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia are having a dinner party for their husbands and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Frazer, 600 North Old Ranch Road, Sunday, Oct. 5, commencing at 4 p.m.

The proceeds from this party will help supplement the deficiency in the philanthrophy fund due to 104 additional half orphans this year.

Junior Clubbers Devote Summer Activities to Philanthropy Work

Although there have been no scheduled meetings, the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club has been devoting the summer to philanthropic work in the community. The summer started off with their "Night In Paris Dance" at Santa Anita Turf Club, the proceeds going toward various philanthropies. Mrs. Richard Davidson, philanthropy chairman, held a rummage sale and will turn the proceeds over to the Verdugo Metropolitan District C.F.W.C. Junior membership when they select their philanthropy for the year.

The club housed 100 boys and girls from all over the United States and Hawaii in the 10th annual Public Parks Junior Tennis Championships held in Arcadia. Some 400 young tennis players particiapted in this national event. Mrs. Richard Carlson, Build-A-Better-Community chairman, was in charge of the housing arrangements.

Mrs. William Derry, youth chairman, has been active in helping to form the San Gabriel Valley Group for Decent Literature. This group's cause is "to aid in the protection of children, who despite parental guidance, are exposed to obscene and indecent literature." The local retail dealers are asked to remove objectionable literature and in cooperating with the group are awarded a certificate. Mrs. Walter Garrison, arts chairman, has painted posters and displayed them in store windows telling of the aims of the organization.

In cooperation with the Temple City Juniors and the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association the club jointly sponsored a rabies vaccination clinic this summer, with members serving as clerks.

The most recent social event was a Luau held at the Stuart Company in Pasadena. The proceeds from this event will go to the San Gabriel Valley Cerebral Palsy School.

The ways and means projects of the club are under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Horsley and Mrs. Harold Libby. Regular scheduled meetings will start this month under the new president, Mrs. William Hurter.

Summer Philanthropies Keep Arcadia Junior Women Busy

ARCADIA — Philanthropy work in their own community has been major activity of Arcadia junior woman's club members throughout summer months.

Although there have been no scheduled meetings, the young women have continued to band together and work in the interest of their various projects,

Fund-raising ventures have included the early summer "Night in Paris" benefit dance at the Santa Anita Turf club.

Benefit Sale

Mrs. Richard Davidson, philanthropy chairman, planned the next event, a rummage sale. Funds collected from this venture will be turned over to Verdugo Metropolitan district junior membership, when the latter organization selects its project for the year.

Another program keeping the Juniors activated over a period of several weeks was the housing of the 100 boys and girls arriving in Arcadia for the 10th annual public parks junior tennis championships. The teenagers, from throughout the United States and from Hawaii, were housed in various homes in the community by Juniors working under the supervision of Mrs. Richard Carlson, build a better community chairman.

Mrs. William Derry, youth chairman, has been devoting much of her time to the organizing of the San Gabriel Valley Group for Decent Literature.

Sponsor Clinic

Another project undertaken by the club was the sponsorship of a rabies vaccination clinic. The clubwomen worked on this program together with the Temple City juniors and the Southern California Veterinary Medical association.

Climaxing the club's summer activities was a luau staged at the Stuarts Co building in Pasadena. Proceeds are destined to go to the San Gabriel Valley cerebral palsey school.

Mmes. J. D. Horsley and Harold Libby direct the ways and means, program for the club.

Arcadia Juniors Will Review Summer Efforts

ARCADIA — Activities of the summer holidays and the Junior Woman's Club's accomplishments during that time will be reviewed when Mrs. William Hurter, president, calls the meeting to order at 8 p.m. Sept. 24 in the Woman's Club, 324 S 1st Ave.

Included in the review will be an announcement by Mrs. Richard Davidson, philanthropy chairman. She will disclose the philanthropy project of the Verdugo-Metropolitan District, CFWC, now being chosen as recipient for proceeds of the rummage sale conducted by the Juniors.

Other activities to be described will include the club's Night in Paris dance and the recipients of its proceeds, club efforts in securing housing for boy and girl tennis players who participated in the annual Public Parks Junior Championships held in Arcadia Park and the successful antirabies vaccination clinic conducted jointly with the Temple City Junior Woman's Club and the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association.

Past and future ways and means projects of the club will be discussed briefly by Mmes. J. D. Horsley and Harold Libby, ways and means committee cochairmen.

CFWC Chorus to Prepare for Federated Conclave

Anticipating the General Federation of Women's Clubs International Convention coming to Los Angeles next May 31-June 5, [illegible] chairmen of the six districts comprising Area C [illegible] Los Angeles [illegible] Los Cerritos and San Gabriel Valley) are planning a massed chorus of over 500 voices from the area in a program of 4 numbers to be presented to the convention. The numbers include, "A Collect For Club Women," "I Believe," "This Is My Country" and our State's official song, "I Love You California."

Mrs. George J. Champlain of Pasadena, as co-ordinator of the program, has secured J. Arthur Lewis, director of the Bureau of Music and music co-ordinator for the City of Los Angeles, to direct this massed chorus. Mr. Lewis is enthusiastic about this project and has already sent the names of the arrangements for the numbers to all District Music Chairmen. He will meet with the choral directors of all the club choral groups in Area C, on Oct. 6, from 1 to 3 p.m., at the Montebello Women's Clubhouse, 201 South Park Avenue, Montebello, in a rehearsal of the four numbers to be presented to the convention, and to instruct them in the interpretation he wants of the music.

A special invitation has been extended to the Junior Membership Clubs (group) in Area C to participate in this [illegible] project.

Contact Mrs. George J. Champlain, 1765 Beverly Drive, Pasadena, for further information, or call her at SYcamore 7-0843.

The stage in soft green dress accommodated a grand piano which provided musical background played by Mrs. Ahlert P. Stuhrman. Opposite the piano was a colonade of tall white and pink gladiola and fern with deeper accents of pink zinnia.

Presiding at the tea table were past presidents of the club: Mmes. William Adams, junior past president, A. L. Wilson, E. H. Dettra, C. F. Ganther, J. K. Weems, C. W. Stewart and G. G. Meade.

Alternating at the guest book were past presidents Mrs. D. J. Slattery, Mrs. B. J. Morris and Mrs. R. A. Young.

Assisting Mrs. Straub were Mrs. Andrew Heilman, flowers: Mrs. Bruce McAbery, refreshments, with Mmes. William Moberg, Lyman Vollintine and Thomas Kemp on her committee.

The new member reception committee was composed of Mmes. Thomas Kemp, E. J. Fuerst and William Weaver.

Corsages

Each of the new members who joined during the summer was presented with a lovely corsage of pink carnations. The newcomers were: Mmes. Harriet Clugston, Arthur B. Cox, Lee A. Doble, Lee R. Ekins, William Ferris, Hugh S. Fleming, Ronald Franzen, Arthur P. Hughes, William Marquardt, Jay Lesk, Harold Olympius, Anton O. Slottelid and Cyrus Little.

Attractively featured on the soft green background walls were oil paintings by a local artist, Dorothy Rodgers.

According to the president, Mrs. Gibbs, paintings from different local artists will be displayed by the club each month.

ANNUAL TEA—The Woman's Club of Arcadia held its annual membership tea last Wednesday in the beautiful clubhouse on First Avenue. Mrs. William Gibbs, is shown here pouring a cup of coffee for Mrs. Thomas Kemp. Others are Mrs. Richard Straub, left, tea chairman, and Mrs. Lyman Vollintine.

Woman's Club of Arcadia Reviews Past and Present Projects at Initial Meeting

ARCADIA — Plans for the ensuing club year and a review of summer accomplishments comprised topics of discussion when the woman's club of Arcadia staged its initial meeting of the year last week at the clubhouse. Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president, conducted the afternoon business session.

An autumn motif, utilizing colorful fall flowers and leaves spilling from a cornucopia, served as effective decor for the head table. Verdugo district board members seated at the table were welcomed and introduced by Mrs. Gibbs. They included Mmes. Alby R. Foy, first vice president and parliamentarian for the Arcadia club; Archie L. Wilson, hospitality chairman and a past president for Arcadia; and William Adams, scholarship chairman and junior past president.

Board Introduced

Mrs. Gibbs also introduced the following new members of her executive board: Mmes. Leonard C. Brooks, second vice president; Bert C Schaar, fourth vice president; William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgman, federation secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; and Edward J. Verhoef, senior trustee.

Mrs. Schaar, ways and means chairman, announced that the club would present "Your Fashion Future," dessert bridge fete, on Oct. 23 at 950 W. Foothill Blvd. The event, to benefit the club's scholarship fund, will begin at 12:30 p.m. Donations are set at $1.50 per person. Styles by Lorraine Sutherland and numerous door prizes will highlight this initial ways and means event of the club year.

Card Tourney

Mrs. J. K. Weems, past president, also announced a bridge and canasta tournament for the early part of next year.

Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Oct. 20, at the beauty salon of Robert Paul's Hairstylist, 928 E. Green St., Pasadena, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Paul plans on demonstrating "Hair Makeup" which will be color highlighting and styling combined with skin tones and facial contours.

After the meeting members will stop at Rand's for "dutch treat" refreshments. For reservations call Mrs. Kelvin Turner, HIllcrest 7-8015.

Club Department Plans Meeting On Wednesday

Mrs. N. E. Stadig, chairman of the International Affairs department of the Arcadia Woman's Club, will preside at the first meeting of the year Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Aldon Melzian, vice-chairman, has invited members and guests to meet at her home, 1665 N. Santa Anita. She will present Mrs. Paul R. Salisbury, who with her Air Force husband and two daughters, lived for two years on Guam. They spent six months in a native village, where they were accepted by the Chamaroos, and were invited to local feasts, [illegible] and church services.

Mrs. Salisbury is past president of the NCO Wives Club, and has been active in the Air Force Family Services program. She regards each new base as another opportunity to be an ambassador of understanding and goodwill for her country. While stationed at March Air Base, she is co-chairman of publicity and on the hospitality committee for Family Services.

The Salisbury's are adept skin divers, and Mrs. Salisbury will show shells, corals and other items from the sea they collected, underwater creatures she saw, and talk on native customs and way of life. Their next base will be Germany, where they will enjoy winter sports, and hope to see other European countries.

Mrs. Salisbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Cole of Arcadia.

Takes Humorous Program Speaker Look at 'Women'

Sugar and Spice" a lighthearted look at today's women, was the title of the program presented to the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club at last week's meeting.

The humorous and sparkling program was given by Mrs. Anne Reher, lecturer and book reviewer of the General Petroleum Co. Mrs. William Hurter, president, welcomed guests and prospective members.

Mrs. Richard Kramb, Federation Secretary, reported that the Arcadia Juniors received the highest number of points at the recent district fashion luncheon for selling the most tickets of any club.

On Oct. 29, Arcadia will be host to the Verdugo Metropolitan District Junior Membership for their district conference. Mrs. George Krueger, State president, will speak at the conference.

Mrs. Harold Libby, assistant ways and means chairman, invited all members to an informal party at her home on Oct. 25.

A painting was on display from the Arcadia Library Art Loan. Mrs. Walter Garrison explained about the Arcadia Art Loan.

An autumn theme was carried out with the table decorations and the hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Troy Bond, Richard Kramb, Larry Fesler, Glenn Crowley, Ralph Long.

District CFWC Announces Two Conferences

A Coordinators' conference for Verdugo-Metropolitan Junior Membership of CFWC will be conducted Oct. 20 by Mrs. George H. Hohnsbeen, Verdugo District Junior Coordinator.

The conference will be from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the Arroyo Vista Woman's Club, 437 Redfield Ave., Los Angeles.

A question and answer period will follow and luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Hohnsbeen, 1210 Pine St., South Pasadena.

On Oct. 27, the first Parliamentary Law Conference of Verdugo District will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the Glendale Main Library with Mrs. Frank M. Snell conducting. "The Duties of Officers" will be topic for the day.

'Life on Guam' Topic Slated for Arcadia Club Initial Meet

Arcadian to Present Island Life

ARCADIA — Mrs. Paul R. Salisbury will be speaker at the initial fall meeting of the international affairs department of the Arcadia woman's club.

Scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 22, the session at the residence of Mrs. Aldon Melzian, vice chairman of the department. Mrs. N. E. Stadig will preside as chairman.

Resided on Guam

Mrs. Melzian will introduce Mrs. Salisbury who lived for two years on Guam with her Air Force husband and two young daughters.

The family, well known in Arcadia, spent six months of their residence on the Pacific island in a native village. Accepted by the Chamaroos, they were invited to local feasts, fiestas and church services.

Mrs. Salisbury, an adept skin diver, will show shells, corals and other items collected off the coast of Guam. She also will describe under water creatures she saw and speak in the language of the natives.

Service Program

Daughter of active club member Mrs. Richard Cole, the speaker is past president of the NCO Wives club. She has been active in the air force's family service program and claims each new base as another opportunity to serve as an ambassador of understanding and good will.

Holiday Homes Tour to Feature Christmas Bazaar at Santa's Club

Climaxing the fun and Christmas beauty of the Holiday Homes Tour on Dec. 5 will be the warm, hospitable welcome at Santa's Club, which will have the Arcadia Woman's Club at 324 South First Avenue, as its setting from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. The tour, sponsored by the Arcadia Auxiliary of the Methodist Hospital, will include the lovely homes entitled Holly Hall, Holiday Provencale, California Snowflakes and Jewels of the Orient.

Memories of happy Christmas seasons will be recreated in Santa's Club by Mrs. James Frazer and her assistants, Mrs. Perry Rajnus and Mrs. Lawrence Shepherd.

Every individual guest will find a personal thrill in some part of the thoughtful presentation of the old traditional Christmas past. It may be in the great old fashioned Christmas tree, the feeling of Christmas secrets in the air, the Christmas fragrance, the carols, or in the well remembered Christmas colors of red and green.

Dr. Orlin Marble will add a Dickens' touch to the setting by arranging an old English scene presenting in silhouette an almost life size mechanized English coach and horses with all of the traditional figures to complete the picture. The professional touches to the Christmas garlands as well as to other Christmas arrangements will be given by William Groen of the Arcadia Florists.

Mel Pratt of the Arcadia Music Mart is devoting a great amount of time in musical research in order to provide the very old English and French Christmas carols, many of which date back to the 13th century.

Gift Items

The feeling of Christmas in the air will be heightened by the tables of exquisite gift items. Because of the thoughtful planning of Mrs. Harry Jackson, Christmas bazaar chairman, Holiday Homes Tour guests will find everything from the glamorous holiday hostess apron, the colorful Christmas tree aprons, the sparkling jewelled candles and the little "tuck in" gifts to items to please the "difficult-to-shop-for" person on the well worn Christmas list.

This year, special thought has been given to the gifts for children. Guests will be delighted with the lovely dolls and puppets as well as the wide selection of stuffed animals. All of the items on display to be sold will again maintain the extremely high standards of workmanship and design as required by the Hospital Auxiliary for their Christmas bazaar.

Under the auspices of the Friends of the Library in Arcadia, Mrs. H. W. Scarborough is planning "Santa's Book Nook" which will be equipped with all of the very finest in children's books. Several of the authors will be present to personally autograph their books.

Refreshments

Mrs. Lawrence Shepherd, hospitality chairman of "Santa's Club" is making elaborate arrangements for the serving of delicious Christmas pastries and coffee to the Tour guests. Her assistant is Mrs. Samuel White house. Mrs. F. Kenneth Gates will serve as hostess chairman.

"Santa's Club" with all of its Christmas memories will seem just like home to many of the guests. The Woman's Club of Arcadia has been a center for the cultural interests of Arcadians for many years. The Club, itself, was born in 1914, and the Spanish type clubhouse was dedicated in 1931. Its setting and appointments will provide a very receptive background for "Santa's Club".

Tickets for the Holiday Homes Tour may be purchased from ticket chairman, Mrs. William H. Ferris, Hillcrest 7-0172; from Mrs. Harold H. Lukin, Hillcrest 6-2291 and from Mrs. C. F. Williams, Hillcrest 7-3209.

The general chairman of this important event which has become an eagerly anticipated holiday highlight for Arcadians and their friends in the Southern California area, is Mrs. Andrew C. Hellman. Mrs. J. W. Watson is the president of the Arcadia Auxiliary of the Methodist Hospital.

SONG AND TRAVEL

TV Star, Lecturer Women's Club Guests

ARCADIA — Suzy Hamblen, radio and TV star, and Dr. Wendell Miller, lecturer and photographer, were special guests at last week's meeting of Arcadia woman's club international affairs department.

Mrs. Hamblen, wife of the noted Stuart Hamblen, sang "Same One," a new song recently composed by her husband. For an encore she presented the now nationally famous "It Is No Secret," a song she claims to have composed in 17 minutes. Other numbers presented by the attractive Mrs. Hamblen included "Fumy Roo," and "There's a Place in God's Heart Meant Just for You." Mrs. Harold Shepherd, press chairman, introduced the singer.

Mrs. N. E. Stadig next introduced Dr. Miller, recently returned from a tour of Russia. Dr. Miller, who has visited 14 major cities in the USSR in the past three years, stressed the friendliness of the common man in Russia as opposed to the unfriendliness of the secret police.

Also noteworthy, Dr. Miller stated, was the extreme cleanliness of Moscow streets, and the great number of beautiful churches and magnificent buildings.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president, welcomed members and guests to the afternoon luncheon. Seated at the head table, beautifully decorated in an international theme, were Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, first vice president; William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; N. E. Stadig, chairman of the international affairs department; and her board members.

Mrs. R. S. Cole, introducing her decorations committee, commented on the unique means used to enhance the international theme. Beautiful dolls from all nations were loaned by Mmes. Stadig and E. J. Verhoef. Travel books and globes were utilized in head table decorations, and the stage centered with flags from nations throughout the world.

A group of three paintings was displayed by Mrs. John W. McDowell, local artist and club member, who was introduced by Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, arts and crafts chairman.

International Theme Used in Decor For Arcadia Woman's Club Luncheon

International Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia sponsored the Oct. 15 meeting of the group, which had the privilege of hearing two guest artists, Suzy Hamblen, radio and television star, and Dr. Wendell Miller, lecturer and photographer.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president welcomed members and guests and introduced guests seated at the head table, Mrs. Stuart (Suzy) Hamblen, Mrs. Harold Shepherd, press; Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, first vice president; Mrs. William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Mrs. Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice president of Verdugo District; Mrs. N. E. Stadig, chairman of International Affairs Department, who introduced her board. They were Mmes. A. L. Melzian, co-chairman; John Richardson, secretary; C. S. Snyder, treasurer; R. S. Cole, press, and Mrs. Esther M. Hanna, hospitality.

In introducing her decorating committee, Mrs. R. S. Cole, chairman, commented on the International theme used as that of "traveling piggy-back around the world" on the backs of those who have seen far places. The beautiful dolls from all nations, Ireland, Scotland, India, Korea and Japan were loaned by Mrs. N. E. Stadig and Mrs. E. J. Verhoef. The head table was decorated with travel books and globes, the stage centered with flags of all nations. Mrs. Cole presented Mmes. N. E. Stadig, E. H. Dettra, R. H. Lane, C. S. Snyder, E. J. Verhoef, R. Granich, and A. L. Melzian as those assisting with the decorating.

New Song

Mrs. Harold Shepherd introduced Suzy Hamblen who sang a new song composed by her husband, Stuart Hamblen, and recorded by Coral Records entitled "Some One," based on the 19th Psalm. Mrs. Hamblen followed with the national favorite, "It Is No Secret," which she stated had been composed in 17 minutes.

Arcadia was the locale of the next member, "Fumy Roo," a story based on a touching episode of three motherless baby skunks who were found by Stuart Hamblem. These records for children are part of a new series of children's songs recorded by the Hamblens for Victor Records.

Suzy Hamblen next sang "There's a Place in God's Heart Meant Just for You" composed by the singer.

Mrs N. E Stadig introduced Dr Wendell Miller who had returned from Russia four weeks ago. Dr. Miller said that he has visited 14 major cities in the U.S.S.R. in the last three years and that he has been taking a group of 25 to Russia each summer.

Common Place

Dr. Miller stressed the friendliness found in the common people of Russia, many of whom were anxious to secure his autograph, as opposed to the unfriendliness of the secret police. Wendell Miller stated that during his last visit he was constantly followed by the secret police.

The extreme cleanliness of Moscow streets was found noteworthy by Dr. Miller who showed pictures of the women engaged in scrubbing them, a daily event. Women labor is used extensively in Russia, Dr. Miller stated.

The expensive buildings, beautiful churches, immensity of the university in Moscow, a building 24 stories high, housing 22,000 students, were also shown by film.

Paintings

The delicious luncheon was prepared and served by members of the club under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Bert Schaar. Assisting her were: Mmes. Alby R. Foy, L. V. Shepherd, Oscar Chagnon, Jennie B. Davis, Ariel Hoegee, Esther M. Hanna, Ted Danciart, Lyman La Tourette, Jr., and Alan Langlois.

A group of three paintings was displayed by Mrs. John W. McDowell, local artist and club member, who was introduced by Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, chairman of Arts and Crafts Department.

Mrs. McDowell showed two pictures of Paris street scenes and one still life.

Noted Authors To Appear at Woman's Club

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will open the year tomorrow morning at 10 in the foyer of the clubhouse with an outstanding program.

Najmeh Najafi and Helen Hinckley, co-authors of "Reville for a Persian Village," will present the interesting program.

Both have appeared locally before and their return [illegible] is arousing keen interest.

Brunch will be served, and Mrs. John Richardson, chairman, will preside at a short business meeting.

A baked food sale will follow the meeting.

Club Evening Section to Wrap Packages

Members and guests of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia recently met at the beauty salon of Robert Paul, Hairstylist, in Pasadena. He demonstrated different "hair makeups" and the "do" and "don't" in combing. According to Mr. Paul all that is necessary to keep a hairstyle lasting and beautiful is a brush, comb, lacquer, and the proper use of the left hand. Mr. Augé, an expert on "hair makeup," assisted Mr. Paul in answering questions.

Mrs. Joseph Bosworth conducted the meeting and presented Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club. It was decided that the members will make the ornaments and decorations for the coming White Christmas Ball, Nov. 29, at the Santa Anita Turf Club.

Members are also requested to meet at the home of Mrs. W. J. Scheuer, Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p.m. to start wrapping the Christmas presents for 305 foster children in the San Gabriel and Arcadia area. They are asked to bring boxes for the sweaters and skirts. Also ribbon and wrapping paper. Another wrapping date will be announced later.

Arcadia Juniors to Host Verdugo District Conclave

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club is making final preparations for the first International Affairs conference of the Verdugo Metropolitan District, CFWC to be held in Arcadia, on Wednesday night at 8 at the Arcadia Woman's Club. Mrs. Robert G. Dah[illegible] the Arcadia Junior and Verdugo District International Affairs chairman, in charge of the day, has invited many distinguished guests from neighboring districts.

Highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of Senior State president of CFWC, Mrs. A. F. Benton, and the Junior clubwomen are honored to have her at the conference as this will be the only Junior meeting that she will attend in the area.

Mrs. DeForest Cutler, president of Verdugo District, will preside and reports from the various district chairmen will be given.

Those attending will be Mrs. J. H. Smith Senior State International Affairs chairman from Colton; Mrs. Arthur Cook, president of San Bernardino District Juniors; Mrs. Donald Ogden, San Gabriel Valley District Junior International Affairs chairman; Mrs. H. H. Bohn, Verdugo District Senior International Affairs chairman; Miss Della Holbrook, Metropolitan District Senior International Affairs chairman. Members of both Senior and Junior clubs in the various communities will also be attending.

The International theme will be used to decorate the clubhouse.

Others from the Arcadia Juniors assisting with the conference are Mrs. William Hurter, president, and Mrs. Warren Buchsmann, International Affairs chairman.

Junior Club Work Praised by Official

ARCADIA — The vast and untiring work programs assumed by the junior membership reaped praise from Mrs. A. F. Benton, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and speaker at the international affair conference held Wednesday evening by Verdugo - Metropolitan district juniors in Arcadia.

Former Junior

Mrs. Benton, first state president to claim membership in the junior organization before affiliating with the seniors, related in her address her experiences as a junior. She also suggested ways and means projects which could prove successful in the raising of funds for CARE, a federation philanthropy for this year.

The state president, accompanied to the conclave by Edward J. Flynn, West Coast regional director of CARE, was introduced by Mrs. Robert G. Dahlquist, chairman of the newly formed Verdugo - Metropolitan district international affairs section.

Mrs. DeForest Cutler, district president, conducted the business session held prior to Mrs. Benton's arrival. The junior membership, at this time, chose its major philanthropy project for the year.

Year's Philanthropy

Named as recipient was the Salvation Army's Booth Memorial Home for unwed mothers. Mrs. Robert J. Culbertson was appointed project chairman.

Juniors Make Philanthropic Contribution

ARCADIA — Mrs. Dorothy Mulford was presented a check for $401.58 for use at the San Gabriel Valley cerebral palsy center when she attended a meeting last week of the Arcadia junior woman's club.

Mrs. Richard G. Davidson, philanthropy chairman for the juniors, made the presentation. The sum represented proceeds of the club's summer luau given by the ways and means committee. The donation will be used in hiring a student teacher for the foundation.

The session, last before the Nov. 4 election, was devoted, in part, to a discussion of the pros and cons of various propositions by the League of Women Voters representatives.

Halloween activities also were discussed. Mrs. Harold Libby was hostess at a party given for members and their husbands. The club also is slated to help with a booth set up for the Halloween night festivities at Arcadia County Park. Mrs. Richard Carlson, build a better community chairman, is supervising arrangements for this annual activity.

Mrs. William Hurter, president, introduced prospective members and guests attending the meeting. The group included Mrs. William Gibbs, president of the senior club, and Mrs. Williams Adams, immediate past president of the Arcadia woman's club.

MRS. A. F. BENTON

State President CFWC Speaks at Meeting Hosted by Arcadia Juniors

A [illegible] was given Mrs. A. F. Benton, president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, by members and guests of the Verdugo Metropolitan District Juniors. The Southland clubwomen were honored to have Mrs. Benton as their guest and speaker for the International Affairs Conference held Wednesday evening at the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The charming Mrs. Benton arrived from her home in Merced by plane, Wednesday evening in time to attend the conclave in Arcadia, and she graciously consented to speak at the conference while in the Southland. The Arcadia Juniors were delighted to be hostess for the affair, as this was the first time she has addressed a junior membership club since her installation.

Mr. Robert G. Dahlquist, district international affairs chairman and member of the Arcadia Juniors, introduced the speakers.

The state president spoke on the CARE program. The project is one which she introduced to the California club women and is being accepted nation-wide as a philanthropy project. The hope of the federation is for $1 from each member to provide school kits for the refugee children in Hong Kong and South Viet Nam. The theme for the CARE program is "A Dollar for a Scholar."

Mrs. Benton was accompanied to the meeting by Edward J. Flynn, West Coast regional director for the agency. Mr. Flynn told of the needs for the program and for the hope of carrying through with the school kit program.

Mrs. DeForest Cutler, district president, presided over the meeting. She introduced honored guests and members of her executive board. Mrs. James R. Case, dean of chairmen, introduced her chairmen who reported on their plans for the coming year.

Mrs. Cutler announced that the clubs in the district have chosen the Salvation Army Booth Memorial home for its philanthropy project for the year.

In keeping with the international theme the clubhouse was decorated with flags of all nations, and a large basket of green foliage festooned with miniature flags. The tea table was centered with a world globe surrounded by fall leaves and yellow tapers. Pouring were Mrs. Frank Angeles, and Mrs. W. R. McCallum, State Junior coordinator of Pasadena. The honored guests were seated at a table covered with a lovely crocheted cloth and centered with a Victorian floral arrangement in an antique silver mug.

Mrs. William Hurter, president of the Arcadia Junior Club and Mrs. William Gibbs of the Arcadia Senior Club welcomed and presented guests with unusual and distinctive corsages fashioned of United Nations dolls, which were made by handicraft chairman from the host club, Mrs. Kenneth Anderson. Prominent club leaders welcomed were: Mmes. W. R. McCallum, of Pasadena; Howard Chandler of Glendale; Frank Coryell of Los Angeles; J. J. Smith of Colton; Jack Cook of Colton; Robert Lee of Hollywood; H. H. Bohn of Pasadena; Dunn of Los Angeles and many members of Senior and Junior clubs in the area.

Members of the Arcadia Juniors serving on the committee for the evening were: Mrs. Charles Coulter, chairman; Mrs. John [illegible], Mrs. Norman Tepper, Mrs. James Kellogg; Mrs. Richard Davidson, and Mrs. Kenneth Gagnon.

Guest Speaker Tells of Family's Experiences During Life on Guam

Members of the Department of International Affairs of Arcadia Woman's Club heard a fascinating talk about life on Guam at the Oct. 22 meeting held at the home of Mrs. Aldon Melzian.

Guest speakers of the day was Mrs. Paul R. Salisbury, who spent two years on the island with her husband, a sergeant in the U. S. Air Force, and their two daughters, Loralee and Juelds Mrs. Salisbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Cole of Arcadia.

MRS. PAUL R. SALISBURY
. . . guest speaker

Presiding at the coffee table were Mrs. Dan Slattery and Mrs. Archie Wilson, assisted by Mr Esther Hanna.

During the informal social sour, Mrs. J. K. Weems gave a concise resume of the present crisis in China. A short business session was conducted by Mrs. N. E. Stadig, chairman, and a gift of $10 was made to CARE and to the "Meals for Millions" fund, both projects supported by the department.

Illustrating her talk with color slides taken by her husband, Mrs. Salisbury related tales of the family's exploration of the seashores and hills around Andersen Air Force Base, which included skin diving for shells, coral and other undersea specimens.

Having lived in a native village for some months, the Salisburys made many friends and attended "fish beats," feasts, weddings and other native events.

The speaker's account of the courting and marriage customs there included many amusing facets of life in the Marianas. She also showed and demonstrated the use of a primitive bamboo and shell navigation instrument with which the natives are able to travel many thousands of miles in their outriggers.

Active Worker

Mrs. Salisbury has been active in woman's club work since she was first given an honorary life membership in the Owingsville Woman's Club in Kentucky at the age of 15. Guest Speakers Read Famous Letters At Luncheon Meet of Woman's Club

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, efficiently presided over the luncheon and business meeting on Nov. 5. In keeping with the policy of the president, two guest speakers, Miss Dorothy Bowen of the Huntington Library and Selma Raphael, book reviewer of note, made their appearance.

Miss Bowen spoke on the subject and quoted from famous letters written by women and now a part of the Huntington Collection. As observed by Mrs. Gibbs, "You have given us the feeling that we are looking over your shoulder and reading other people's mail."

Miss Bowen read excerpts from a letter to Sarah J. Hale of Godey's Lady's Book fame written by President Millard Fillmore in 1852 as a result of an inquiry and plea from Mrs. Hale urging a national Thanksgiving Day. President Fillmore stated that he felt "that was not an appropriate subject for legislation." Ten years later, as a direct result of Mrs. Hale's campaign, President Lincoln proclaimed the first national Thanksgiving Day.

Excerpts from letters of Harriet Beecher Stowe to the firm of James T. Fields, publishers, written in January, 1853, were read. Miss Stowe spoke of receiving a letter with five hundred thousand signatures from English women asking "to stop slavery in America."

Legality of Vote

Susan B. Anthony wrote of the day she went to the polls "to try to vote" and to test the legality—for which she was fined $100. The day Miss Anthony made her effort to cast a vote was Nov. 5, 1872.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Alby R. Foy, first vice president of Verdugo District, CFWC, that the Woman's Club of Arcadia had won the prize for the club having the greatest amount of members travel to Hawaii under the Verdugo District ways and means project.

Guests seated at the head table and introduced by Mrs. Gibbs comprised Miss Bowen, Mrs. Chester C. Anderson, third vice president and program chairman; Mrs. William A. Cosgrove, recording secretary; Mrs. Philip R. Shirk, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel J. Nock, Mrs. Ralph Hankins Jr., Mrs. Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice president of Verdugo District and Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the Literature Department.

Mrs. Richardson introduced the board of Literature Department: Mmes. B. G. McAbery, vice chairman; T. R. Hughes, secretary; C. L. Killingsworth, K. B. Leslie, treasurer; C. W. Stewart, hospitality; S. J. Nock, courtesy; R. H. Lane, publicity; R. S. Cole, Charles Ganther, W. S. Orr and G. W. Blanchard.

Decorations

Members of the decorating committee used books held in place by bookends, outlined with chrysanthemums on tables decked with ivy. The head table had ivy interspersed with pyracantha berries and a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. In charge of decorating were Mrs. R. T. Huges, Mrs. R. H. Lane, co-chairman, with Mrs. C. L. Killingsworth, K. B. Leslie and John Richardson assisting.

The Literature Department held a bake sale under the auspices of Mrs. William Moberg aided by Mmes. Leslie, Orr and Lane.

New members attending and presented by Mrs. R. W. Straub, membership chairman, were Mmes. Bernie Mason, Louise H. Ryan, Hugh Fleming, Catherine A. Jason, Orlin G. Marble and James Burns. Mrs. Lincoln Schick had as her guest, Mrs. Orville Lewis.

Antique Show

Mrs. J. W. Watson announced that the Antique, Hobby and Collector's Show will be held March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elk's Club in Arcadia. Anyone who is interested in exhibiting in any one of the three categories should contact Mrs. Watson, ELgin 5-3058 or Mrs. Bert Schaar, Hillcrest 7-7098. Mrs. Watson stated that tickets will be available for $1.25.

Mrs. Richardson introduced Selma Raphael who reviewed "The Best of Everything," written by 26-year-old Rona Joffe. Miss Raphael stressed the simplicity of the book, the "recording" type of writing used throughout.

Woman's Club Plans Bridge Tournament

Gold Trophies will be awarded to the winners of the annual Bridge and Canasta Tournament sponsored by The Woman's Club of Arcadia. The tournament begins Jan. 15, and will be open to all card players in Arcadia, according to Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman.

Great interest in this annual event is being shown by both club members and the general public.

The affair, which begins in January, continues on Feb. 19, March 19 and April 16 and will be held at the clubhouse beginning in the morning at 11:30 sharp. Dessert and coffee will be served and door prizes drawn for each time, Mrs. Weems stated.

Two Programs Planned for Woman's Club

According to Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, two diversified programs will be presented to members on Wednesday, Nov. 19.

Charlotte Cartwright will speak at the luncheon program. Her topic will be "Heart House-Cleaning." Mrs. Chester C. Anderson, third vice president and program chairman, states that Miss Cartwright has many a chuckle tucked into the mental house cleaning she presents; that every housewife who has suffered through this type of domestic upheaval will recognize the painful process and its reward in accomplishment. Miss Cartwright's presentation is one of warm, gentle philosophy mixed with considerable humor, said Mrs. Anderson.

Music

The afternoon program is being given by Lenore Mae Espe who will present varied organ and piano "Musical Interludes."

Miss Espe is a native Californian, born in Los Angeles. She studied graduate work with Olga Steeb, internationally known concert pianist. At present Miss Espe teaches organ in Pasadena and San Marino, is church organist for the Chevy Chase Baptist Church in Glendale and staff organist for KHOF-FM, radio station.

Lenore Mae Espe has done organ accompaniment for records and has two programs under the name of "Celestial Reflections."

lusic Program, Guest Speaker ighlight Woman's Club Meeting

At the recent meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, Mrs. liam D. Gibbs, presided over the meeting which featured two grams.

The luncheon speaker was Charlotte Cartwright, whose topic, art House Cleaning," was of provocative interest to members.

A delightful group of "Musical Interludes" was presented in the afternoon by Lenore Mae Espe and Pamela Gibbs at the organ and piano.

Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, first vice-president, announced a district project of a "Cookie and Candy Lift" comprising cookies and candy for Christmas dropped by parachute to men in the armed services stationed in inaccessible outposts.

Mrs. Ray Allen Young explained the district program of "A Dollar for a Scholar." The club plans on raising money to equip Chinese children with paraphernalia for school. Mrs. Young reported that to supply one child requires two days labor on the part of parents. One dollar will supply the equivalent of the labor—one school kit.

Christmas Party

Mrs. N. E. Stadig gave details of the Christmas Party for club members scheduled for Dec. 17.

Mrs. J. K. Weems urged all interested to register for the Bridge and Canasta Tournament beginning Jan. 10. Tickets are available at $1.25 per person.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, issued an invitation to all wishing to show exhibits in the "Antique, Hobby and Collector's Show" set for March 12, 13, 14 at the Elk's Club in Arcadia, to call Mrs. J. W. Watson or herself to register entries.

Mrs. Gibbs, and Mrs. Herbert W. Glidden received birthday cakes.

Mrs. Richard W. Straub, membership chairman, introduced Mrs. E. S. Muhler and Mrs. Vern Foster, new members.

Guests

Mrs. Gibbs introduced guests at the head table: Mmes. Charlotte Cartwright, guest artist; Chester C. Anderson, program chairman; Lyman G. Vollintine, who gave the invocation; Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice-president of Verdugo District, C. F. W. C.; William Hurter, president of the Junior Woman's Club of Arcadia; William Cosgrove, recording secretary; E. J. Fuerst, first vice-president, and Mrs. Harold H. Shepherd, press chairman, who introduced the press committee. Those attending were: Mrs. A. M. LaRay, music; Mrs. Earl Kennedy, evening; Mrs. Homer W. Brown, garden; Mrs. Robert H. Lane, literature and Mrs. R. S. Cole, International Relations.

Mrs. Gibbs expressed her appreciation for the work of Mrs. James Frazer in charge of the press book.

Mrs. A. F. Slover was chairman of the decorations, assisted by Mmes. Clark Bridgman, A. M. LaRay, Lincoln Schick, Ariel Hoegee, J. E. Childrey, G. W. Blanchard. The committee used home grown pumpkins, red berries, yellow chrysanthemums spilling from horns of plenty emphasizing the Thanksgiving theme.

Luncheon

Luncheon was prepared and served by Mrs. Bruce G. McAbery, chairman, aided by Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, Mrs. R. H. Lane, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. William Adams, Mrs. H. J. Funk and Mrs. Ralph I. George.

Mrs. Cartwright, introduced by Mrs. Anderson, brought a message of philosophy and guidance to her audience. She presented an analytical comparison basis between a heart and a house in its need for house cleaning.

The afternoon program given by Lenore Mae Espe at the organ and Pamela Gibbs at the piano featured diversified numbers. Miss Espe teaches organ in Pasadena and San Marino and is staff organist for KHO F-FM, radio station.

Pamela, a student with Mrs. Della K. Cox, is a freshman at Arcadia High School. She played "Clair de Lune" by Debussy. As a finale "The Wind Chimes" was presented by Miss Espe and Miss Gibbs at the piano.

Travelers Show Color Slides for Literature Group

Members of the Literature Department of Arcadia Woman's Club were treated to a picture trip through Hawaii, the Philippines and Hong Kong at their November meeting last week.

Mrs. George Blanchard, a member of the department, and Mr. Blanchard were there with a collection of beautiful color slides they had taken on their recent tour. Beginning with the trip to Honolulu, there were views of island flowers, native dances and spots of interest including a pineapple plantation. Shipboard scenes en route to the Philippines recorded another phase of the journey, and highlighting the Hong Kong pictures were many shots of the oriental gardens and places of beauty.

Autumn flowers and candlelight graced the tables for the coffee hour preceding the meeting, and Mrs. Bruce McAbery gave the Bible thought for the day, entitled "Peace," with a reading of Charles Kingsley's, "Thank God Every Morning."

Mrs. John Richardson, chairman, conducted the meeting and welcomed special guests, Mr. Blanchard, Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman, Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. Ariel Moegee, Mrs. Louise Ryan and Mrs. Meuhler.

Mrs. Richard Cole, projects chairman, conducted an informal discussion and six ladies were chosen to write stories or poems for the next meeting.

Others present were Mmes. Louise Ryan, Robert Gardner, Philip Keeler, Samuel Nock, Homer Brown, William Moberg, Carl Snyder, Rena Johnson, John Ross, N. E. Stadig, Ida Welsh, Francis Leslie, Rose Lane, Charles Ganther, Thomas Hughes, Freeman Gates and M. M. Trew.

MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE—These gleaming brass rice dishes are not only beautiful, but melodic. Miss Adeline Veghte is shown playing music she composed, inspired by their ringing tones discovered when she was browsing in a little shop in Korea. In a recital presented for the Music Department of the Woman's Club recently, the composer was accompanied by Marian Bridgeman on the flute, and Mona Emanuel on harp.

Composer Presents Unique Recital For Woman's Club Music Department

Attracted to a set of brass rice dishes in a little shop in Korea, Miss Adeline Veghte, musician and composer, discovered that their beauty was more than visual. When struck, the bowls rang out with such beautifully clear musical tones, she couldn't resist setting the sounds to music.

Placing a series of various size bowls into a scale arrangement, Miss Veghte then composed melodies based on the unique harmonies. These she arranged for trio, adding parts for harp and flute.

Members of the Music Department of Arcadia Woman's Club had the pleasure of hearing a group of these Chinese Gong compositions at a recent meeting. Programmed were "Confucian Temple Chant," "Fisheman's Joy," "The Prodigal Son," and "In The Windbell Temple."

Accompanied by Mona Emanuel, harpist, and Marian Bridegman, flutist, Miss Veghte played her compositions and explained the background of each one.

Now a resident of Pasadena, Miss Veghte taught western music for many years at the University of Peking. Mrs. Emanuel and Mrs. Bridgeman are well known in the San Gabriel Valley, having appeared as soloists many times. Their most recent performance was for the Maryknoll Benefit at Monrovia Woman's Club.

A Chorus rehearsal was also held during the meeting under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan. Preparations are being made for the group to sing at the State Convention next Spring in Los Angeles. The chorus will join at least 500 other voices for the convention performance.

Mrs. Archie Slover, chairman of the department, announced that the December meeting would be held in conjunction with the mother club. It will be a Christmas party and the music department will assist in carol singing.

Mrs. Leonard Cartwright presented the program of Chinese music. Other members present were Mmes. Ted Danciart, Alfred LaRay, Waldo Greiner, A. R. Foy, William Adams, M. M. Trew, W. A. Cosgrove, E. J. Fuerst, Joseph Parnham, Jessie Stewart, Lila Richardson, Archie Wilson, Charles Ganther, Lyman Vollintine, Marshall Smith, Ahlert Stuhrman, E. Loeffler, H. Thombs, Anyta Doyle, Marguerite Butters, E. Arcadia Women Honor Clergy at Luncheon

ARCADIA—Heralding the advent of the Christmas season, 12 members of the Arcadia clergy were honored at last Wednesday's meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. William D. Gibbs, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, first vice president, conducted the meeting. The Rev. Walter E. James was the guest speaker.

Members of the clergy and their wives attending were: Rev. and Mrs. Edward A. Rein, American Lutheran Church; Rev. and Mrs. Joe Stockett, Church of the Nazarene, Arcadia; Rev. and Mrs. H. Warren Anderson, Arcadia Community Church; Rev. and Mrs. St. Elmo Nauman, Arcadia Congregational Church; Rev. and Mrs. A. Leonard Gilmour, Arcadia Friends' Church; Rev. and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, Church of the Good Shepherd; Rev. and Mrs. William H. Clayton, Community Foursquare Church; Rev. and Mrs. Bennie C. Flint, Baptist Church; Rev. and Mrs. Gordon A. Whipple, Grace Church; Rabbi Charles W. Steckel; Bishop and Mrs. Elvin T. Wayment, Church of Jesus Christ, L.D.S., Arcadia; Clair A. Wiederhoft, Our Savior, Lutheran.

Mrs. E. J. Fuerst delivered greetings from Mrs. Gibbs and introduced guests at the head table who were: Mrs. C. W. Stewart, in charge of the collection of treasured Bibles displayed in the foyer; Rev. Walter E. James, humanitarian and director of the Department of Social Work and Community Program for the Presbytery of Los Angeles; Mrs. C. C. Anderson, program chairman; Mrs. A. M. LaRay, soloist; Mrs. L. S. Cartwright; Rev. Gilmour, who gave the invocation, and Mrs. Gilmour; Mrs. John Richardson, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice president, Verdugo District, C.F.W.C.; Rev. Rein, who gave the benediction, and Mrs. Rein.

Mrs. Richardson was assisted by the following hostesses: Mmes. C. C. Anderson, A. L. Wilson, N. E. Stadig, L. C. Brooks, L. V. Shepherd, E. H. Dettra, B. J. Morris, B. G. McAbery, B. Schaar, A. P. Stuhrman and A. R. Foy.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Leslie and her committee of Mrs. Edward J. Verhoef, Mrs. Homer W. Brown and Mrs. Robert H. Lane were responsible for the beautiful decorations done in the Christmas theme. An exquisite scene of Madonna and angels, on the piano, was assembled by Mrs. Verhoef.

At the head table was a cathedral scene of stained glass windows in front of which a miniature choir was gathered. Decking the halls and tables were boughs of holly, in which were centered Christmas trees, reindeer, sleds, Santas and candles.

To add to the festivity of the day, Mrs. A. M. LaRay sang "How Lovely Thy Kingdom," accompanied by Mrs. L. S. Cartwright.

Mrs. R. W. Straub presented Mrs. William Broughton as a new member.

A complimentary life membership was given Mrs. Callie Chase.

Mr. James stated that there are one-half million people in California living in slums with many contributing factors as the cause; congested housing, poverty, ill health. Mr. James discussed the ever growing problem of juvenile delinquency; told of the need for "Neighborhood Houses," the existence of baby clinics and the necessity for more work on the part of the individual in his own community to remedy the existing evils in each community.

Club Group Gives Christmas Gifts to 305 Foster Children

The hearts of members of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will be gladdened this Christmas season by visions of beautifully wrapped gifts and happy children. The group's project of the year, that of making clothes and collecting articles for 305 foster children in the San Gabriel Valley, has been completed and will be picked up by the Los Angeles County Welfare Bureau where the workers put on the name tags.

These children are not orphans but are under the care of the Welfare Bureau because of various reasons, chief among these often is a mother's illness. Foster homes are the answer to the problem and these people are chosen with a great deal of care. The state law authorizes the counties "to provide the best substitute for their own home for those children who must be given foster care." Payment is made for the basic needs of these children but it is not enough for the extras.

During the year, the Evening Department receives many calls for help, a boy needs a suit, a girl is in need of a graduation dress, and just recently, a girl that had difficulty walking to school needed a bicycle. The Arcadia Tribune placed an article in their paper stating the need of this 13 year old girl which was answered by a kind resident on West Palm. We are all sure that this child's Christmas will be happier and brighter by the lovely bicycle that was donated.

Committee

Mrs. Joseph W. Scheuer, philanthropy chairman, has been assisted by Mmes. Joseph Bosworth, chairman of the Evening Department, James Frazer, Clifton Niederhaus, Doyle Lindley, and William Motley.

The Christmas project begins in June when the philanthrophy committee starts shopping for the gifts. The group takes advantage of the sales and are constantly watching for good buys. During the months of October and November the welfare office of El Monte furnishes lists containing the number of boys and girls in each age group. The girls from 11 to 17 are listed as to size and coloring and the department members bought material to make a skirt to fit each particular girl, then a matching sweater was purchased. The department never knows the name of the foster child or where it lives.

This project began seven years ago and the funds are raised in various ways. This year there was a May Daze luncheon and card party, a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Frazer, and a bridge marathon by the members and their husbands. All the proceeds from the department's annual White Christmas Ball go into this philanthropy fund.

The department members have met at various times to wrap these gifts and make the packages beautiful. They hope to bring some comfort and happiness to these children, who in many cases are unhappy and sometimes resentful that they have to be away from their parents.

Garden Section Holds Yule Party At Verhoef Home

A festive air pervaded the home of Mrs. Edward Verhoef, 380 W. Camino Real, last week when the Garden and Home Department of Arcadia Woman's Club met for its Christmas party.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout and gaily wrapped gifts, which members had brought for a gift exchange, were placed under a glistening white tree trimmed with blue ornaments. The dining room table was centered with greenery and red tapers.

Salad and Christmas cookies were served by the hostess and her committee, Mmes. Earl Dettra, chairman, John LeNoir, George Fry and Marshall Smith.

Mrs. Dettra introduced two new members, Mrs. Catherine Jason and Mrs. Lorena Mason.

Mrs. N. E. Stadig, program chairman, presented Mrs. R. S. Cole, a member of the department, who delighted her audience with a humorous and entertaining discussion of "Fabrics and Cosmetics."

Mrs. Robert Lane acted as Santa Claus and distributed the gifts.

Others present were Mmes. Herbert Glidden, Rose Granich, Lawrence Shepherd, Elmer Hodson, Homer Brown, C. F. Noack, Lyman Vollentine, Wallace Smith, William Moberg, Palmer Schlegel, John Richardson, Freeman Gates, Auburn Fox, Philip Sherk, Charles Ganther and Russell Lucas.

Arcadia Woman's Club Holds Gala Christmas Meeting

The spirit of Christmas was everywhere at the meeting at the Woman's Club of Arcadia last week. Mrs. Albert Weickert and Mrs. Marie Johnson were in charge of the decorations for the Art Department.

Sprays of English holly with bronze sprays tied with red and green ribbons were the centerpieces for each table. The piano held a crystal bowl with beautiful copper color sprays and a red candle with green holly. In the foyer, the "Three Kings" dressed in their colorful robes were on the credenza and on the mantel, a snow scene and tapers on the piano.

Mrs. William Gibbs, president, extended the season's greetings to all and thanked everyone for her many birthday cards and for the "get-well" cards sent after her recent accident.

Mrs. William Weaver gave the invocation for the day and Lucy Wass gave the salute to the flag. Luncheon was served buffet style.

Mrs. Gibbs dispensed with the business for the day and greeted guests and two members who had not been to club for some time—Mrs. Davit Green and Mrs. Karl Stephens. Mrs. J. K. Weems, president of the Junior Club, reminded everyone of the bridge and canasta tournament January 15. It will be open to the public. Mrs. Gibbs closed the meeting with a fitting poem.

Mrs. Chester Anderson, program chairman, presented the program for the afternoon. Earl Hancock of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, presented two motion pictures, "The Night Before Christmas" and "The Nativity," in color and done by puppets.

At the close of the program, Mrs. N. E. Stadig, with several helpers, was Santa Claus. She distributed the exchange gifts brought by all the members. The Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Clark Bridgman playing the flute, Mrs. Lincoln Schick at the piano and Mrs. Archie Slover leading.

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club Closes Year With Christmas Party

"All Thru the House"was the program presented to the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club at the annual Christmas party and the last meeting of 1958.

Beautiful Christmas decorations were demonstrated by Aleene's of Temple City. Members were shown how to make lovely net Christmas trees, outdoor wreaths, and many more arrangements for the holiday season, and were delighted with its old fashioned Christmas tree decorated with popcorn, candles and snow balls.

The stage was outlined with larg red poinsettias and leaves, with sprays of pine surrounding the room. Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, craft chairman, decorated the tables with gold woven basket Christmas trees with miniature ornaments, fruits and greenery.

Dinner was served by the committee with Mrs. Fred Bush as chairman. Assisting were Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Charles Coulter, Mrs. Lee Darrow, Mrs. William Derry, Mrs. William Hurter. Mrs. Quinn Kern, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. Norman Tepper, Mrs. Kenneth Ward. Mrs. James Wilson accompanied the group in the singing of Christmas carols, while a jolly Santa presented each member with a gift from her secret sister. Members revealed who their secret sister had been for the year.

Mrs. Herbert Brisley and Mrs. Robert Fiscus received a prize as having decorated the most beautiful packages.

A short business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hurter. Guests were introduced and welcomed.

Mrs. Hurter introduced Mrs. William Adams, co-ordinator, and Mrs. William Gibbs, associate coordinator and Senior president.

Mrs. Kenneth Michel announced that the juniors had 100 per cent participation in the District project of Cookie-Candy Lift.

One of the highlights of the evening was the drawing of names for prizes to help further the projects of the Stamps For the Wounded, Mental Health, International Affairs. Winners were Mrs Ruth Enslin, steam iron; Mrs. C. H. VanNest, cook-n-fryer; Mrs. P. O. White, griddle, Mrs. Danny Brodwica, toaster. Mrs. Richard Carlson announced that member would be helping with the trip to Santa's Village under the Arcadia recreation program. Conservation Film Presented at Club Section Meeting

The conservation of this country's natural resources and how Americans are learning to carry out one of their highest obligations was brilliantly portrayed at a meeting of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia last week at the home of Mrs. Jack Moore, 2300 Sewanee Lane.

A color film titled "The Censervation Story," narrated by film star Thomas Mitchell and presented by Richfield Oil Corporation, told the story of what Americans have done with the nation's resources from wilderness days to the present.

The film presented dazzling views of the beauties and wonders of the vast wilderness that America's pioneers enjoyed. It went on to show how, too often, these natural gifts were wantonly exploited, turning wealth into waste that had to be paid for by succeeding generations.

Finally, we began to learn how to make the most of forests, water, land, mineral resources and the many other natural resources upon which our lives depend. This making-the-most of a resource is what conservation really means, the film pointed out. It results not in hoarding and never using, but in using wisely so that both present and future Americans can get the greatest benefits from our natural riches, the film concluded.

Assisting Mrs. Moore as hostesses at this January meeting were Mmes. Alan Langlois and Jay Lesh.

International Section to Have Speaker

Col. George B. Pritchard of Arcadia, who recently visited both Pakistan and Afghanistan on business will be guest speaker on Jan. 28 at the monthly meeting of the International Relations Dept. of the Arcadia Woman's Club. Mrs. N. E. Stadig, chairman, will hostess the group at her home, 545 Valido Road.

Col. Pritchard will show color film and slides of native life and villages. Of special interest will be pictures of the caravans which still form a main method of transportation in those countries.

A coffee hour at 10 a.m. will precede the meeting. Mrs. Esther Hanna and Mrs. Aldon Melzian will assist the hostess.

Members may bring guests, as this promises to be one of the most informative programs of the season.

Music Section To Meet At Clubhouse

Music department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet Jan. 27 at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, announces Mrs. Archie F. Slover, chairman.

Chorus rehearsal will be at 10 a.m. sharp.

The Hawaiian theme will be carried out in the program and Mrs. Clark Bridgman will play the Hawaiian "Wedding Song" on the flute. Mrs. Lincoln Schick will commentate on show films on Hawaii which she took on a visit there.

Bring a sandwich, coffee and dessert will be served.

The department chorus of 14 voices will join the 500-voice chorus of clubwomen who will sing at the National Convention in April. It is also planning the Reciprocity Day program at the Woman's Club.

Arcadia Woman's Club Hears FBI Agent Speak on Narcotics Control

Special Agent Edward L. Olsen of the Federal Bureau of Investigation was the guest speaker at the Women's Club of Arcadia at its recent meeting conducted by Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president.

Mrs. William S. Orr, Federation Chairman of Narcotics, had arranged in the foyer of the clubhouse a display of marijuana, synthetic drugs and heroin with the kit used by addicts. The display was by courtesy of the Arcadia Police Department.

Mrs. Chester C. Anderson, program chairman, presented Mr. Olsen who stressed the part played by the public in the detection of criminals.

As an example, he recounted the cases of 96 major criminals, each of whom was on the list of "the 10 most wanted men"; 36 were apprehended as a result of tips from citizens. Mr. Olsen urged continuation of public interest in aiding the Bureau.

The work of the FBI, is divided into two categories, he said those pertaining to criminal matters and those having to do with security.

Under the criminal heading are violations of Interstate Commerce laws, fradulent checks, kidnaping, which the FBI may enter on the premise that "an individual not found or returned within 24 hours is presumed out of state"; bank robberies concerning banks who are Federal Reserve members. Any criminal who engages in "unlawful flight to avoid prosecution" may be handled by the Bureau.

Mr. Olsen stated that the FBI has 53 offices throughout the United States and its possessions.

Security work has three divisions, Mr. Olsen said, subversive, counter-espionage and sabotage.

One of the great difficulties in cases of espionage is obtaining legal evidence—that which will stand up in court. Mr. Olsen reiterated that any letter or telephone call by a private citizen is urged and appreciated by the Bureau.

Mrs. E. A. Rein had as her guest Mrs. Helen Schaefer and Mrs. Charles Ganther was hostess to Mrs. Henry Hege.

On display on the walls were two paintings by Lawrence Fry, the husband of a club member. Mr. Fry showed a seascape and a pastoral, both paintings done with a palette knife.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Bridge and Canasta Tournament, stated that 112 persons have registered for the event which begins with a buffet dessert this Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the clubhouse. Tickets are on sale at $1.25 per person or $5 for the four month tournament.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, stressed the award-winning idea of Mrs. J. W. Watson, the Antique, Hobby and Collector's Show to be held March 12, 13, 14 at the Elks Club in Arcadia. Tickets will be $1.25. All interested members and public wishing to exhibit may contact Mrs. Watson or Mrs. Schaar.

Mrs. William Moberg gave the [illegible] report. The decoration committee, headed by Mrs. C. P. Noack, assisted by Mmes. E. J. Verhoef, R. H. Lane and F. E. 'Arts of Japan' To Be Topic of Junior Club Meet

The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the new year Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The program for the evening will be presented by Lennox Tierney on "Folk Arts of Japan." His presentation will include slides, ceramics and all types of art objects of Japan. Mr. Tierney is teaching art history at Pasadena City College and is guest lecturer at the University of California Extension division with courses in Background for Foreign Travel and other art courses. He spent two years in Japan from 1949 to 1952, and two years in Europe from 1954 to 1956. His broad field of study has included most all parts of the world. He is a graduate of UCLA and holds an M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Reports for the new year will include the husbands' dinner and the fashion show.

Garden Department To Meet Wednesday

The Garden and Home Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at the clubhouse Wednesday at 11:30.

Members have been asked to bring a dish suitable for making a dish garden to be taken to the City of Hope. This is one of the philanthropies of the department this year.

A program is planned and dessert and coffee will be served.

Camellias Decorate Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse for Outstanding Meeting

Under the auspices of Mrs. William D. Gibbs, the Woman's Club of Arcadia, beautifully garbed in full dress of camellias, held its January meeting with widely acclaimed Rima Rudina, versatile violin virtuoso, as guest artist.

The hall, under the talented direction of Mrs. W. T. Hubbs, chairman, and her committee of Mmes. C. F. Noack, R. I. George, T. S. Swirles, D. G. Shrader and J. Burge, was transformed into a garden of camellias.

The tables were decorated with manzanita trees fashioned into blooming camellia bushes with beds of greenery enhancing the shades of pink blossoms used in profusion. A dramatic arrangement of the same flowers was placed on the piano. An epergne spilling with camellias and flanked by graceful candelabra bearing pink candles ornamented the buffet table.

The excellent luncheon, prepared by club members Mmes. Arthur H[illegible], Russell L[illegible], Herbert Glidden, Elmer Hodson, Richard Straub, John McDowell, Arthur Johnson, George Benton and Bert Schaar, was ably chairmaned by Mrs. Phillip Sherk, who when not occupied with culinary duties, serves as club treasurer.

Mrs. Gibbs introduced Mrs. Archie F. Slover, chairman of the music department, honored guest of the day, who in turn presented her board as follows: Mrs. Clark Bridgman, program; Jayne E. Children, secretary; Lincoln Schick, treasurer; A. P. Stuhrman, hospitality; and John J. Doyle, press book.

Life-Savers

Mrs. Ray Allen Young spoke of the Federation project, "A Dollar for a Scholar," the need of furnishing school kits to children of Viet-Nam and Hong Kong. Mrs. Young brought a tree fashioned of "life-savers." Each life-saver representes a dollar donation to the fund by club members.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman, announced the successful beginning of the Bridge and Canasta Tournament with 137 participants and stated that Feb. 19 wil be the next tournament date.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and Means chairman, said entry blanks are available to all wishing to exhibit in the coming "Antique Hobby and Collector's Show" to be held March 12, 13, and 14 at the Elk's Club.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, Arts and Crafts chairman, presented Mrs. A. L. Melzian (Lannea), club member and art teacher, who spoke on the paintings she had done which were exhibited on the clubhouse walls. Mrs. Melzian's diversified work was executed in opaque water color, crayon and water color as well as oil. Mrs. Melzian conducts classes in mosiacs in addition to her art classes.

Miss Rudima's mastery of the violin was acclaimed by the large group present. The field of music from the classical to the comical presented by Rima Rudina gave full scope to the ability and dramatic personality of the artist.

Woman's Club To Entertain Civic Leaders

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, announces that the traditional Civic Day luncheon and meeting honoring city officials and civic leaders will be held Wednesday noon, Feb. 4, at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Chester C. Anderson, program chairman, states that the program has been planned especially for the enjoyment of the guests and is being given by an outstanding male quartet, "The Song Brokers."

Mrs. Anderson said that the "Song Brokers" have been in existence since 1940 with the exception of the war years when the men served their country in various capacities. Their purpose, according to Mrs. Anderson, is not to educate but to entertain. Blend, pitch and the precision of their work delight serious musicians; the dash and comedy add entertainment value.

Mrs. Anderson further stated the "Song Brokers'" repertoire offers popular, light opera, spiritual, barber shop, comedy and production numbers.

Clarence Badger Jr. is the top tenor, pianist, native of San Francisco.

John Bennet, lead tenor, graduated from UCLA in 1949 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. Mr. Bennet has appeared on Broadway.

Arthur McCulloch, baritone, hails from New York, received his early musical training in Pasadena city schools, where he was a winner of the Arnold Music Award.

John Moss, bass, studied voice in Canada and made his debut with the Vancouver Symphony.

Mrs. Earl C. Towsley is chairman of the day, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. A. V. Marchetti, HIllcrest 7-1915, or Mrs. H. W. Glidden, HIllcrest 7-8623, or by calling HIllcrest 6-3804.

Arcadia Woman's Club Holds Gala Christmas Meeting

The spirit of Christmas was everywhere at the meeting at the Woman's Club of Arcadia last week. Mrs. Albert Weickert and Mrs. Marie Johnson were in charge of the decorations for the Art Department.

Sprays of English holly with bronze sprays tied with red and green ribbons were the centerpieces for each table. The piano held a crystal bowl with beautiful copper color sprays and a red candle with green holly. In the foyer the "Three Kings" dressed in their colorful robes were on the credenza and on the mantel a snow scene and tapers [illegible] the piano.

Mrs. William Gibbs, president, extended the season's greetings to all and thanked everyone for her many birthday cards and for the "get-well" cards sent after her recent accident.

Mrs. William Weaver gave the invocation for the day and Lucy Wyss gave the salute to the flag. Luncheon was served buffet style.

Mrs. Gibbs dispensed with the business for the day and greeted guests and two members who had not been to club for some time—Mrs. Davit Green and Mrs. Karl Stephens. Mrs. J. K. Weems, president of the Junior Club, reminded everyone of the bridge and canasta tournament January 15. It will be open to the public. Mrs. Gibbs closed the meeting with a fitting poem.

Mrs. Chester Anderson, program chairman, presented the program for the afternoon. Earl Hancock of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company presented two motion pictures, "The Night Before Christmas" and "The Nativity," in color and done by puppets.

At the close of the program Mrs. N. E. Stadig, with several helpers, was Santa Claus. She distributed the exchange gifts brought by all the members. The Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Clark Bridgman playing the flute, Mrs. Lincoln Schick at the piano and Mrs. Archie Slover leading.

Women's Club of Arcadia to Present Annual Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show

Mrs. William Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, has announced that the second annual "Antique, Hobby and Collectors' Show" will be held March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elks Club, 27 West Huntington Drive, Arcadia, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 9 p.m. Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, is chairman of the show, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Watson, last year's chairman.

Mrs. Frank Roush, long time resident of Arcadia and ardent collector of antiques, has a treasure trove in her home at 521 Lorena Avenue. Many of these items Mrs. Roush plans to exhibit at this outstanding show.

According to Mrs. Roush, everything in her possession is usable and everything is used. The collection of Early American primitives comprises a spinning wheel, dough box, ladder-back chair, coffee mills, an exquisite bonnet chest, rail-back Windsor chairs, mainly of pine and maple, with a bed-warmer whose design has been traced to the state of Pennsylvania as the designs on it are typical of that state.

Mrs. Roush is the proud owner of a complete set of McGuffey's Readers — the First Eclectic through the sixth grade. The owner states that many objects in her collection are "Serendipity" pieces, as she encountered many times in her travel throughout the New England states the experience of going in to buy one antique only to emerge with a totally different prize.

Among the many different types of antique glass in the Roush collection is Hobb[illegible] pink [illegible] and [illegible] vase, copper [illegible] [illegible] lace and [illegible]. The [illegible] glass [illegible] eye and daisy-[illegible].

Victorian Era

[illegible]

"what-not." The "what-not" shelf was so named, according to Mrs. Roush, as our ancestors were highly undecided as to "what and to "what not" place upon it. An exquisite needlepoint chair and slipper stool are representatives of this period. Mrs. Roush also has a wig stand complete with marble top, fashioned of black walnut.

In the lamp collection are splendid examples of "gone with the wind" lamps, a truly beautiful cranberry hanging lamp with crystal prisms. These and many other interesting oil lamps have been converted to modern use.

All types of clocks are to be found superbly displayed throughout the Roush home. All are working and ticking, striking "a friendly time of day." Mrs. Roush's son Robert is now in possession of his great-grandfather's "grandfather clock."

Towel racks, spice chests, commodes, wall shelves, picture frames and old prints have found themselves again in living use, adding much to the warmth and charm of the home. The living room has as a piece de resistance a [illegible] square grand piano made of rosewood which is 125 years old.

European Treasures

[illegible]

New England states and Michigan, her home state. Venetian glass and other European treasures were obtained by Mrs. Roush during a recent European tour.

Mrs. Roush has a complete collection of Royal Doulton figurines and Toby mugs which are interspersed throughout her home.

Frank Roush, the originator of the Arcadia Tribune and a businessman of many years' standing in Arcadia, has as a hobby his collection of old coins and stamps. The Roush's have resided in their present home for 30 years.

Anyone wishing to exhibit in any one of three categories may contact Mrs. Joe W. Watson, in charge of all entries.

Violinist Entertains At Arcadia Woman's Club

ARCADIA—Under the auspices of Mrs. William D. Gibbs, the Woman's Club of Arcadia, beautifully garbed in full dress of camellias, held its January meeting with widely acclaimed Rima Rudina, versatile violin virtuoso, as guest artist.

The hall, under the talented direction of Mrs. W.T. Hubbs, chairman, and her committee of Mmes. C. F. Noack, R. I. George, T. S. Swirles, D. G. Shrader and J. Burge, was transformed into a garden of camellias. The tables were decorated with manzanita trees fashioned into blooming camellia bushes. A dramatic arrangement of the same flowers was placed on the piano. An epergne of camellias, flanked by graceful candelabra bearing pink candles, ornamented the buffet table.

The excellent luncheon, prepared by club members Mmes. Arthur Hughes, Russell Lucas, Herbert Glidden, Elmer Hodson, Richard Straub, John McDowell, Arthur Johnson, George Benton and Bert Schaar, was ably chairmanned by Mrs. Phillip Sherk.

The president,; Mrs. Gibbs, welcomed the guests at the head table and introduced Mmes. E. J. Arcadia Junior Woman's Club Enjoys Art Workshop Program

The first meeting of 1959 for the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club was devoted to various types of art work. The program, "Folk Arts of Japan," was presented by Mrs. Lennox Tierney, art instructor of Pasadena City College and well known lecturer of UCLA. The very interesting program consisted of colored slides and art objects made by the people of Japan. One of the highlights of the evening was the Small Fry Art contest, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Garrison, penny arts chairman. Participating in the contest were drawings by the members' children from pre-schoolers to sixth graders. An art exhibit of paintings created by members and their husbands was also on display. Mrs. William Hurter, president, welcomed guests and introduced Mrs. William Adams, coordinator and past president of the Senior Woman's Club.

A letter from Mayor Elton D. Phillips was read in which he expressed appreciation for the club's work and cooperation in various community activities during the past year.

Mrs. Milton Vogel, first vice-president, reported on the annual husband's spaghetti dinner to be held at the next club meeting on Jan. 28. Second vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Horsley, told of the bridge luncheon fashion show on Feb. 28 at the Dinnerhorn in West Covina. The proceeds from the luncheon will go to the San Gabriel Valley United Cerebral Palsy Development Center. Tickets are to be $3.50, and the event will be open to the public.

Mrs. Gordon Campbell, third vice-president, invited members to an orientation class at her home on Jan. 20. The purpose of the get-together is to better explain club procedures, chairmanships, and their duties.

Mrs. Richard Carlson, "Build a Better Community" chairman, asked for volunteers to help with the Mothers' March on Polio. Mrs. Frederick Schirmer, mental health chairman, asked members to save all of their old 78 speed records and Christmas cards to be sent to a mental institution.

The refreshment tables were decorated with art palettes and brushes surrounded by camellias. Serving on the committee for the evening were Mrs. Harold Libby, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. William Cross, Mrs. Theodore Greenburg, Mrs. Frank Horner and Mrs. Ronald Jorgensen.

Jimmy Pon to Exhibit Rare Coin Collection At Woman's Club Show

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, states that in addition to the exhibits shown by adults in the second "Antique, Hobby and Collectors' Show" to be held on March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elks Club, 27 West Huntington Drive, there will be a children's hobby wing featured.

Young James (Jimmy) Pon, blonde, blue-eyed and age 11, who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H[illegible] Pon, [illegible] brother and one sister at [illegible]34 South Third Ave., is entering his highly prized and valuable coin collection in the show.

Jimmy's [illegible] ambition is to grow up to be a coin collector. [illegible] became interested [illegible] of [illegible] some [illegible] ago when [illegible] book on coins [illegible]

He started [illegible]

Many hours [illegible] been spent by Jimmy patiently [illegible] through masses of coins looking for premium ones, his mother stated. Jimmy, himself, estimates that he has handled 100,000 coins and adds that if he is lucky he will average five or six premium coins by going through 5,000.

Premium coins, explained young Master Pon, are made so by the rarity of the coin and its condition. Some coins are minted in such small amounts that they can be "premium" ones even though not of great age. Jimmy is the fortunate owner of the complete series of Indian Head pennies which were minted from 1859, but not after 1909. J. B. Longacre was the designer of the Indian Head penny and his initial "L" is to be found on all these coins on the ribbon at the back of the head.

Copper Nickel

Jimmy has a complete collection of Liberty Head nickels ranging from the year 1878 to 1935, and he will have on display the "Flying Eagle," a copper nickel minted from 1856 to 1958.

The Buffalo and Jefferson nickels are represented in his collection.

One of the prize series, Jim stated, is that of the Mercury dimes which run from 1916-1945.

The Roosevelt dime came into being in 1946.

He owns and will show his "Liberty Standing" half dollars. As explained by Jim, Liberty is standing, and the whole figure is showing.

Jimmy stated that many of his valuable coins are in the bank, one of which is a 1793 silver dollar and two reales, eight of which made up a "piece of eight." These coins, Jimmy said, were the chief coins of the early American colonists and were the forerunners of our quarters.

Investment

Coins, Jimmy said, even as cars, are graded by red, blue and green book values. The condition may vary from "[illegible]" to "good" to "fair" and they are valued accordingly.

Jimmy [illegible] has a book [illegible] investment [illegible] better than 4 per cent on his investment. Jimmy is now eleven.

He was born in Pasadena May 14, 1947, formerly lived in Glendora. Jim attended the Harding Military Academy, but is now enrolled in Dana Junior High School in the seventh grade.

Mrs. J. W. Watson, 281 West Foothill, is in charge of all entries for the show. Anyone wishing to exhibit should contact Mrs. Watson.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, will be happy to answer all questions pertaining to the three day show sponsored by the Woman's Club.

Junior Originals To Be Shown At Woman's Club

On Wednesday, Feb 18, the Woman's Club of Arcadia will hear Dr. Leonard Steinberg of the Pasadena Counseling Center as the luncheon speaker and "Junior Originals," fashions by the Junior Woman's Club, will be shown by the members of that group, stated Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the senior club.

Mrs. Chester C. Anderson, program chairman, observed that the club is fortunate to have Dr. Steinberg as the guest speaker. The management of the Pasadena Counseling Center is under the direction of Dr. Steinberg, former Assistant Dean of Students at Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y. Dr. Steinberg received his graduate training in psychology at Columbia University and has had extensive experience in [illegible] testing and counseling with all ages in both college as well as mental hygiene clinic settings.

He is a member of the American Psychological Association, American Personnel and Guidance Association and a professional member of the National Vocational Guidance Association.

Mrs. Lee D[illegible] of the Junior Woman's Club is chairman of the fashion show with Mrs. [illegible] Hunter serving as her co-chairman.

Mrs. William Hunter, president of the Juniors, states that the fashions to be displayed are home-sewn ones and that the audience will be supplied with full details of each costume as to the cost of pattern, material, and value of completed garment.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made through Mrs. [illegible] Marchetti, HIllcrest [illegible], Mrs. H. W. Glidden, HIllcrest 7-[illegible] or by calling HIllcrest 6-3004.

Huntington Dr. With her are Mrs. Wayne W. Jones, who is chairmaning the collection of old books, and Mrs. Phillip Sherk, club treasurer.

Unusual Collections to Be Exhibited at Annual Woman's Club Hobby Show

By popular request the Woman's Club of Arcadia is repeating [illegible] "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" on March 12, 13 and 14. To accommodate the large amount of entries submitted, the Elks [illegible] W. Huntington Dr., Arcadia, has been selected as the location for the show, stated Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the organization.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, has announced that in addition to the tickets for adults at $1.25 there will be student tickets on sale at 50 cents. These will accommodate children and students of elementary and high school ages.

Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman of entries, states that all kinds and types of entries with strong appeal to all age groups will be viewed by the public during the three day show.

Mrs. Wayne W. Jones, chairman of the collection of old Bibles, old books and religious relics, announces that she has many entries of great interest to bibliophiles.

Among the Bibles are some [illegible] and 1845.

An extraordinarily rare volume that will be entered is one from [illegible] of N. and G. Guil- [illegible] entitled 'Alciphron,' [illegible] Philosopher in Seven [illegible] translated out of the Greek. The author is D. [illegible] Berkeley, Bishop of Gloyne.

Mrs. J. W. Watson states that [illegible] have been received in such [illegible] with Mrs. A. L. [illegible] Mrs. S. J. Nock [illegible] a fabulous collection of [illegible]. Mrs. G. W. Mc- [illegible] will have her documen- [illegible] and hooked rugs at the show.

[illegible] both antique and modern, [illegible] exhibited. Mrs. Jeanne [illegible] founder of the Doll [illegible] San Gabriel Valley, will have her very old French dolls [illegible] dolls at the show.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs will submit her priceless collection of Chinese seals, 59 in number.

Mrs. William I. Baumann will have exquisite china among other treasures at the show.

Antique jewelry will be seen. Old coin collections will vie with Oriental groupings. A full vignette of early American life will be set up with each article in the room authentic. There will be an old harvest table draped with a very old flax tablecloth imprinted with "The House of Seven Gables" pattern. The table will be completely set with old Meissen china and old silver. There will be a spinning wheel, clock-reel and all accouterments pertaining to the period, a way of life long past, but one still cherished in the minds and homes of current day Americans.

Collections of old guns will contrast with a miniature railroad. Artists will exhibit paintings.

Weaving will be demonstrated. An art rapidly disappearing will be shown, that of the caner.

Glass etchings, textile painting, work with copper enamel—all of these hobbies will be found at the Elks Club during the three day lavish show.

Beautiful displays of glass of all kinds, coupled with exhibits of china, will be seen by the public.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, 325 Magellan Road, HIllcrest 7-7098.

Jr. Woman's Club President Reviews Year's Activities at Sr. Club Meeting

Members of the Junior Woman's Club were honored guests of the Woman's Club of Arcadia at their recent February "Day with our Juniors" meeting. Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the senior club, graciously extended a welcome to Mrs. William Hurter, Junior president, and to all the guests from that group.

Mrs. Hurter conveyed the sincere appreciation of the Juniors for all the support given them by the senior club and introduced her board members: Mmes. Milton Vogel, first vice president; J. L. Horsley, second vice president; L. H. Darrow, recording secretary; Quinn Kern, corresponding secretary; R. G. Davidson, dean of philanthropy; K. P. Gagno, dean of chairman; L. Schumacher, Americanism, who gave the invocation; Mrs. William Adams, Junior co-ordinator, scholarship and club amenities for Verdugo District; and Mrs. Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice president, Verdugo District. Mrs. William Cosgrove, recording secretary, was also introduced by Mrs. Gibbs.

On behalf of the Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. Hurter presented a gift of two tables to the senior group as an expression of the appreciation felt by the members of her club.

Mrs. Hurter gave a resume of the activities of the past year as follows:

The Juniors contacted the San Gabriel Valley Decent Literature Group and assisted them by drawing and placing posters throughout the community.

The Juniors housed 100 children in the Arcadia area during the 10th Annual Tennis Tournament held this summer. They also served the dinner for the graduation party.

All proceeds from their luau and the fashion show to be held Feb 28, will go to the Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

All Juniors assisted the San Gabriel Valley Humane Society in the innoculation of 700 dogs against rabies.

Twenty-five dollars was given by the club to the American Field Service for the foreign exchange student.

Scrap books and dolls were made of Christmas cards and presented to the Pacific State Hospital for retarded children.

A new member luncheon and swimming party was held and an "Initiation Tea." Orientation classes were conducted for new members.

Twenty-five pounds of nylons for Japan were collected.

The Juniors packaged 45 boxes for the candy and cookie lift. Sweaters and caps were knitted for Korean children.

Three hundred ninety-eight dollars and fifty cents was collected by the Juniors during their Mother's March for the Polio Foundation.

Three hundred fifteen apples were given to a home for un-wed mothers as part of a district philanthropy.

After the luncheon, the Juniors presented a fashion show of clothing made by them and modeled by members.

Moderator

Mrs. William Hunter, mother of four children, was the commentator. Sports clothes, with prices for total garments as low as $2, were modeled. Afternoon and evening dresses were shown as were children's clothes.

Guests of members were as follows: Mmes. Chester Anderson, Karl Bedell; J. A. Pearce, Gladys Benson; Richard Cole, Robert Schensky; E. M. Hanna, Ethel High; Parmer Ickes, David Raigans; Alby Foy, H. M. Phillips; Henry J. Funk, Vivian Funk; E. J. Fuerst, George Killen Jr.; William Broughton, Edward Manthey; William Motley, Palmer Snow.

The excellent luncheon was prepared and served by members of the Evening Department of the club, Mrs. J. Bosworth, chairman, was assisted by Mmes. R. W. Titgemeyer, J. E. Moore, G. M. Derry, J. L. Lesh, J. W. Scheuer, R. E. Hadady, R. Wadell, K. A. Haberg, D. Lindley, A. W. Anger, W. Marquardt, A. Langlois and A. P. Malling.

Decorations for the tables were cleverly fashioned hat trees festooned with spring bonnets, made by Mrs. Kenneth Anderson.

Speaker

Mrs. William Hurter introduced Dr. Leonard Steinberg, manager of the Pasadena Counseling Center who spoke on "How People decide upon and adjust to their life's work.

Dr. Stienberg stated that there are 30,000 different ways to make a living in this country. In determining how well fitted an individual is to the work he has chosen Dr. Steinberg mentioned the factors of self-concept, area of interest and emotional balance all must be considered by the vocational counselor.

The various tests of aptitude, achievement, personality and interest, while most helpful in aiding the counselor, cannot be used alone, said Dr. Steinberg. "A vocation cannot be decided simply by taking tests. Counseling must be individualized to help. Vocational counseling rather than testing is the answer, though tests present fair, unbiased facts which tend to be stable, facts derived from tests are limited."

Promotion of Good Will Inspires Juniors

The promotion of universal understanding of international differences in cultures through programs and contributions, is the purpose of the International Affairs Division of the Junior Woman's Club. Mrs. Warren Buschmann is chairman of the section and during her term of office the Juniors presented an American Field Service program, contributed $25 to the Exchange Student program, collected and sent children's clothing to the El Cavario Community Center, and sent adult clothing to refugees overseas. They collected and sent old nylons to Japanese war widows to assist them in making their livelihood.

A contribution was also made to the local "Dollar For A Scholar" fund at a district meeting held in the Arcadia Clubhouse. Mrs. Leslie Benton, state president, while attending the meeting, told of the hopes of the Federation to support the CARE program by helping to purchase school kits for refugee children in Hong Kong and South Viet Nam.

Each guest at the program was presented with a corsage fashioned from a United Nations doll.

The current project of the International Affairs committee is the knitting of sweaters and caps for Korean children.

Hawaiian Theme Selected By Music Department

Mrs. Archy Slover, chairman of the music department of the Woman's Club, presided recently when the department met at the clubhouse. Hostesses for the day were Mmes. Wallace Manley, Carl Snyder and William Vogel.

Hawaiian music supplemented the showing of pictures taken during the club trip to Hawaii. Mrs. Lincoln Schick commentated on the pictures after Mrs. Leonard Cartwright introduced the program. "The Wedding Song" was played by Mrs. Clark Bridgeman on the flute; she was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Albert Stuhrman when she played the "Swinging Shepherd Blues."

Members and guests present were Mmes. Schick, Slover, Cartwright, Stuhrman, Manley, Snyder, Bridgeman, Vogel, S. M. Childrey, Irwin Logan, Nick Laurchkin, Alby Foy, J. C. Parnum, William Adams, William Cosgrove, G. A. Fabulous Painting Exhibit to Feature Woman's Club Antique and Hobby Show

Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman of the entries for the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" sponsored by the Woman's Club of Arcadia, to be held March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elk's Club, 27 W. Huntington Drive, Arcadia, states that local artists in Arcadia will display their paintings at the three-day show which opens at 11 a.m., and continues until 9 p.m.

Many of the Arcadia Artists group are members of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Among them is Mrs. Philip (Tonny) Weary, 481 Workman, who has had a deep interest in painting all her life.

Mrs. Weary prefers working in oils and while she has done many landscapes, her ability and interest has manifested itself in portrait studies. She has executed many lovely portraits.

Mrs. Weary first began her art studies with the Pasadena Art Institute.

Mrs. Mildred S. Maltbie, 1321 Holly Avenue, who is a member of the Mid Valley Art League, is extremely interested in the organization of "Arcadia Artists." Mrs. Maltbie states that the number of artists to be found in this city creates a demand for a group endeavor; that great interest is being shown by many people in the Arcadia Artists project. Mrs. Maltbie feels that much more is to be gained by artists from working in a class.

Mrs. Alvin (Edna) Lenz who is so well known in Arcadia for her fine paintings is at present instructing art classes and should be contacted by any artist interested in forming a local group, Mrs. Maltbie said.

Mrs. Maltbie observed that she had always longed for a eucalyptus tree on her property—she now has several at her home, all beautifully depicted in water color.

Fabulous Exhibits

Mrs. Maltbie has always been interested in art; she is an art teacher. Mrs. Maltbie held an exhibition at the Arcadia Library a year ago; she has been conducting classes at the Glendora Woman's Club and will participate in an art show there in March as well as in the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show."

Mrs. Watson points out that the exhibit of paintings, a most complete one, is only one of the many fabulous exhibits to be found at the Arcadia show.

Other artists who are members of the Woman's Club are Mmes. G. W. Castle, J. W. McDowell, A. L. Weickert, and A. L. Melzian.

All artists have not yet been contacted, Mrs. Lenz said.

All who wish to exhibit should notify Mrs. Joe W. Watson, 261 W. Foothill Blvd., or call ELgin 5-3058; Mrs. William D. OCTOGENARIAN HOBBYIST — Walter Coke, seated at loom, is showing a beautiful woven stole to Mrs. H. W. Glidden, member of ways and means committee for the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Mr. Coke's hobby is weaving and he will exhibit his work at the show. His wife, seated, is wearing a lovely dress of silk and rayon which were woven by her husband. The show will be given March 12, 13 and 14 in the Elks Clubhouse.

Walter Coke, Native Californian, To Exhibit Weaving in Hobby Show

There will be many entries in the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" on March 12, 13 and 14, to be held at the Elks Club, 27 W. Huntington Drive, Arcadia, but one entrant with an unusual hobby, that of weaving, has a fascinating story to go with his exhibit. Walter W. Coke, 420 S. Second Avenue, embarked on his present hobby at the age of eighty.

Some eight years ago, when he and his wife were visiting in the northern part of the state, they attended a hobby show. There they saw an exhibit of live sheep; as an additional feature of the demonstration, the wool was clipped, carded and spun on the spot. Another group of people cut out and sewed a dress of the material, all in one day, Mr. Coke relates.

Mr. Coke became so interested in weaving after this impressive display that upon returning home, he went to Covina to take "a couple of lessons" and remained two years studying the art of weaving.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coke are native born Californians. The elder Cokes migrated to California in 1852, traveling across the plains in a covered wagon. For fifty years Mr. Coke was a farmer. At the close of World War I there was a demand among veterans for instructors in agriculture. Mr. Coke, as a livestock expert, was drafted as a teacher of agriculture on a purely temporary basis, but he remained in that profession for twenty years, instructing at Chaffey High School and in Ontario.

Active Members

Mr. and Mrs. Coke are highly active residents of Arcadia. They have lived in this city fourteen years and are active members of the Arcadia Presbyterian Church, having a large job on their hands visiting the sick and shut-ins.

In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Coke are taking a course at Pasadena City College on "How to behave when you get old." As Mr. Coke explained, "at 88, we expect to get old some day." There are 20 or 25 students in this class which meets once a week.

The Cokes have three sons, all of whom graduated from the University of California at Berkeley, majoring in agriculture. One of the sons later went into medicine and is at present a doctor; one is a teacher of agriculture and one held the position of assistant secretary of agriculture. The Cokes have eight grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren.

Woven Stoles

Mr. Coke has the loom upon which he fashions exquisitely woven stoles, towels, place mats, baby blankets and dress materials in his home. Many of has products are to be seen in stores.

Mrs. Coke does all the hand work for the various items, as Mr. Coke uses the sewing machine but does not do needle work. Mrs. Coke observed that she helps her husband and he helps her "around the house."

Mr. and Mrs. Coke will have many of his beautiful products at and three day "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show," sponsored by the Woman's Club of Arcadia, Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman of entries, stated

Mrs. Herbert W. Glidden, member of the ways and means committee, said that tickets are in the mail to members and may be secured from them; prices $1.25 for adults, fifty cents for student tickets.

Daughter of Civil War Drummer Boy To Display Treasures at Hobby Show

"It is pleasant to labor for those we love," is a quotation from an old glass cake plate belonging to Mrs. A. V. Marchetti, 430 Vaquero Road, who is an entrant in the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" to be given March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elks Club, 27 W. Huntington Drive.

The cake plate is embellished with the grape pattern as is almost everything owned by Mrs. Marchetti who explained that as Indiana claims the grape pattern as its own, she claims Indiana as her home state.

Mrs. Marchetti who resides in what was termed "the first storybook home" built in Arcadia by many national magazines, is a former Hoosier school marm.

Marie Marchetti is the daughter of Thomas C. Morgan who was a drummer boy in the Civil War. Mr. Morgan witnessed the Indians scalp his grandmother. Later, Mr. Morgan became the personal bodyguard of Abraham Lincoln and was present at the funeral of the Great Emancipator as a pallbearer.

Marie Marchetti as a little girl attended the Morgan school, a one room schoolhouse built on land donated by her father. She then went to a junior high school to which she later returned in the capacity of a teacher.

Pewter

Mrs. Marchetti's exquisitely decorated home with the early American primitives in gorgeous woods of pine, black cherry and white cherry, stresses the Pennsylvania Dutch influence.

On the porch is an old rocker with a heart shaped red pillow. The samplers and accents throughout the beautiful home use the Dutch tulip and heart. To the Dutch, Mrs. Marchetti explained the tulip symbolizes the Trinity. The Dutch, as well as being a deeply religious people, placed high value on their families and homes thus the heart.

churn. Marie Marchetti says that she has churned many a pound of butter.

One bedroom houses a lovely Bible stand of poplar wood which the owner says has a legend of great beauty. The poplar trees wept to see the crucifixion of Jesus and their tears made dark streaks in the wood, which remain to this day.

With the Bible stand is a magnificent four-poster bed of the same wood, complete with trundle bed. A blanket chest houses rare, exquisite coverlets and spreads once belonging to Nellie White, an early president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. Against another wall is a Franklin stove beside which is a rocker and a pair of slippers.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, sponsors of the show, states that tickets are available to the public $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for students. All proceeds will be used in philanthropic work, Mrs. Gibbs added.

PRESIDENT'S PERTINENT POINTS:

It is with sadness that I report the passing of Mrs. Charles Tye, President of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club. She was a wonderful woman and one only had to look upon her lovely, spiritual face to know the kind of life she led--giving of herself to Church, Community, Club and District. We shall certainly miss her.

Mrs. Franklin Franco, 409 N. Mt. Trail Ave., Sierra Madre, Phone EL 5-9766, formerly 1st Vice President of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, is now acting President for the remainder of the Club year.

As I wished to surprise the members of the Thursday Morning Club, I did not congratulate them in the February bulletin on their 25th Anniversary. It was my pleasure to present to them the General Federation 25th Anniversary Scroll, signed personally by Miss Chloe Gifford. Although I try to keep up with YOUR Club's birthday, I could overlook it, so please notify me some months in advance of your 25th, 50th or 75th anniversary so that you, too, may receive a scroll.

Mrs. Paul A. Schauer, 1440 Asbury Drive, Pasadena, Phone SY 7-4009, is serving as Corresponding Secretary Protem in the absence of Mrs. Glen W. Scott.

Our Birthday Council was most successful and I hope enjoyed by all. The Clubs contributed $241 to the Spastic Children's League of Pasadena--what a wonderful Birthday Gift! I wish to thank everyone who helped to make the day a memorable celebration.

Many thanks to both the District and Club Chairmen for their excellent mid-year reports. Without those reports, we would have no knowledge of the outstanding work of Verdugo District. Will all Club Chairmen make a concerted effort to get their final reports to the District Chairman or to the Dean of Chairmen (where we lack a District Chairman) no later than March 2.

Please note: The above date was changed from March 15 to March 2, necessitated by the request of State that reports be mailed at an earlier date.

If one person, such as the Federation Secretary is reporting for several departments, would she please write the reports on separate sheets to simplify distributing the information to the proper chairmen? This report should give a complete picture of your activities for the entire club year, including what you anticipate doing during the remaining weeks. Awards to clubs at Convention will be based upon those written reports, so please do your part in order that we may give credit where credit is due.

Collector's Dolls to Be Featured in Arcadia Show

ARCADIA—Dolls of wax, papier-mache, wood, bisque, fabric and kid, French fashion dolls and Milliner dolls, all from the collection of Mrs. Jeanne Cumminskey, will be exhibited at the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors' Show," in the Elks' Club, 27 W. Huntington Dr., March 12-14.

The show is sponsored by the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

The public is invited, according to Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president. Mrs. J. W. Watson is chairman of exhibits, and Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd is chairman of hostesses.

Mrs. Cumminskey's doll collection includes a group from the 1880's, composed of "Little Nell," a French doll riding in a cart with a Teddy Bear, with "Old Nell" in harness. The group is to be shown at the Charles Bowers Memorial Museum following the Arcadia show.

Others in the collection include a French doll of bisque with movable limbs and pierced ears, the first doll in her collection, according to the collector. Each doll is named, the bisque doll called Beatrice Paquet after the collector's mother. It dates back to 1885, when ears of all children were pierced in the belief that it enabled the children to hear better, according to Mrs. Cumminskey.

Among the most gorgeous are the French fashion dolls, possibly intended only for display as they have remained in excellent condition, according to collectors.

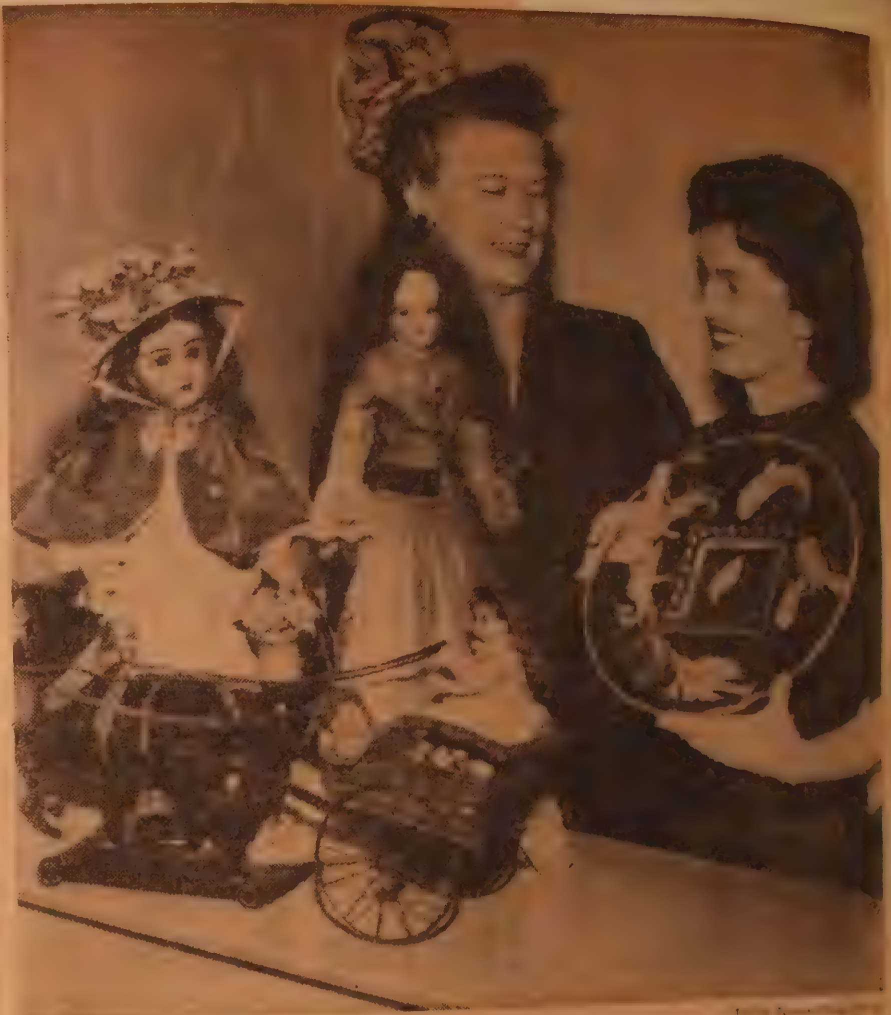
Another fascinating type is the Milliner, or pattern doll, forerunner of the fashion magazines. Dressmakers and milliners traveled about the country before the Civil War, with the dolls dressed in the mode of the day, from which customers made their selections. Mrs. Cumminskey has 20 of these in her collection, with wooden arms and legs, and kid bodies.

Boy dolls and Negro dolls were rare, according to Mrs. Cumminskey, and one of her highly prized items is a Negro boy doll, believed to have been made by a colored Mammy for her own child.

Mrs. Cumminskey started her collection when she was given a collector's item by a friend during an illness, followed by a gift of 20 Vargas wax dolls from Mexico.

To finance her past-time, and a second hobby of glass etching, Mrs. Cumminskey instructs in riding. She is the founder of the San Gabriel Valley Doll Club, and has also contributed articles to hobby magazines.

Mrs. Bert Schaar, ways and means chairman, has announced that tickets are available for the hobby show, and student tickets may be obtained at a reduced rate.



CHECKING AND ADMIRING part of the collection of dolls owned by Mrs. Jeanne Cumminskey, right, as she prepares them for exhibit in the Arcadia Woman's Club "Antique Hobby and Collectors' Show" scheduled for next week are Mrs. Cumminskey and Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd, chairmen of hostesses for the event.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS of charitable, literary, social and educational work was the reason for the decorated birthday cake served to Arcadia Junior Women at their recent birthday celebration. The first piece of cake was given to current club president, Mrs. William Hurter by Mrs. William Gibbs, first president of the Juniors, and current president of the Arcadia senior women.

Arcadia Juniors Celebrate Birthday

ARCADIA—Arcadia Junior Women celebrated the 21st birthday of the club last Wednesday with a special birthday party honoring past presidents of the Juniors and members of the Arcadia Senior Women's Club.

The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club was organized in 1937 and became a member of the California Federation of Women's clubs in 1938. The object of the club is to pursue charitable, literary, social and educational purposes.

First president of the organization was Mrs. William Gibbs. Mrs. Gibbs was active in the club and has served as junior and senior coordinator. At present she is associate coordinator. Her duties as president of the senior woman's club have brought the activities of the two organizations in close association.

Mrs. William Hurter, Junior president, welcomed and presented the honored guests with corsages. The past presidents attending were Mmes. Edward Schaar, Robert Kidd, Louis McCourt, Richard Hachten, and Melvin C. Wysock. Senior members honored were Mrs. William Adams, coordinator; Mrs. William Gibbs, associate coordinator; Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, Mrs. R Lane, and Mrs. A. Jensen.

Mrs. William Derry, youth chairman, reported that pictures from the "small fry" art contest were on display at the Arcadia Public Library. Mrs. Richard Carlson reported on the March of Dimes breakfast which the club and the El Rancho Market sponsored last month.

Mrs. Walter Garrisan thanked members for exhibiting their art work at the district meeting of Verdugo Metropolitan District Juniors. The Arcadia Juniors placed second in the art contest. Mrs. Gibbs announced that the "Antique, Hobby and Collection Show" for Mar12, 13 and 14 at and Show" for Mar. 12, 13 and 14 will be held at the Elks Club. She explained the planned highlights of the event.

Program for the evening was presented by Hendrick's Furs and were modeled by Mrs. William Hurter, Mrs. Kenneth Ward and Mrs. Charles Coulter.

At refreshment time, a large cake with "Happy 21st Birthday Arcadia Juniors," in pink and white was served. The beautifully decorated tables were adorned with gold gavels with pastel ribbons attached to the handles placed on leaves of green ivy. Each past president was presented with a miniature gold wooden gavel.

Chairman for the party was Mrs. obert Dahlquist. Assisting her were Mmes. Glenn Crowley, Robert Grauting, George Sanders, Milton Vogel, J. S. Williams and Richard Davidson.

BABY STAMPS TO BE SHOWN AT ANTIQUE, HOBBY SHOW

Mrs. James P. Frazer, 600 North Old Ranch Road, will have a most unusual collection entered in the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" March 12 through 14 at the Elks Club, 27 W. Huntington Drive, Arcadia. The show is sponsored by the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

Mrs. Frazer collects stamps in general, but specializes in "baby" stamps from all over the world. Pictured on every stamp in this collection is a baby or small child.

Mrs. Frazer's stamps hail from many countries. The majority are mint issue. She has Egyptian stamps, Madonna and child ones from the Saar. Holland and Japan are represented as is Finland with stamps portraying tiny infants sans clothing. There are little girls pictured on stamps from Spanish Sahara.

Austria has young children shown with their pet animals. Cuba is present in this collection. Canadian stamps have early pictures of the then Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret...

Russian and French stamps are represented. The French stamps show tremendous depth and perspective.

A most interesting note in foreign stamps is the unusual amount of colors used.

Mrs. Frazer observed that the tiny kingdom of Monaco derives much of its revenue from the sale of stamps There are no taxes in this principality, stated Mrs. Frazer.

Tickets may be obtained from the Music Mart, any club member, or at the door, Mrs. W. D. Gibbs, president, stated. They are priced at $1.25 for adults and fifty cents for students.

Marie Taylor Gives Piano Program For Woman's Club Music Department

Music Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia held the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Lincoln Schick.

At a short business meeting presided over by Chairman Mrs. Archie Slover, the group decided to take a block of tickets for a performance of "Blithe Spirit," current production of the Arcadia Community Theatre. The proceeds of the sale will go to the district's "Lulu B. Tenney Scholarship Fund." The scholarship is in memory of Mrs. Tenney who was prominent in club work and district music chairman for several years. It will be used to help a talented young musician gain further training in music.

A short rehearsal of the music to be sung at the convention was directed by Mrs. Thatcher Jordan.

Marie Taylor gave a recital on the piano featuring numbers by Bach, Mozart, Haydn, Schuman, and Saint Saens.

Mrs. Taylor, who is a well-known teacher of piano in Arcadia, is a graduate of Northwestern and holds a master's degree in music. She was formerly a student of Sergei Tarnowsky.

Hostesses were Mmes. Alby Foy, Joseph Parnham and Bruce McAbery.

Those attending were Mmes. S. M. Childrey, Harvey Thombs, William Cosgrove, Jessie Stewart, Ariel Hoegee, T. Danciart, Harry Phillips, Irwin Logan, N. ARCADIA—All phases of music will be well represented at the "Antique, Hobby and Collector's Show" to be held March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elks Club, 27 W. Huntington Dr., Arcadia, according to Mrs. W. D. Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, which is sponsoring the lavish three day event.

To enchant collectors of old musical instruments will be a dulcimer, together with the music written for it, belonging to Mrs. Archie Slover. Mrs. L. S. Cartwright will display her old flute; Mrs. Gareth Ortman an old mandolin. Mrs. Paul Christman has entered two lovely old Swiss music boxes; Mrs. W. D. Gibbs is exhibiting a very early American one. Ray Vasler is the fortunate owner of a graphophone or gramaphone and 30 discs which he will show. Mrs. Lincoln Schick will be displaying an old bugle, and a highly unusual old valve trombone will be shown by Mrs. Gibbs.

The Music Mart of Arcadia has offered the use of an old trumpet from India and an exact replica of an unusual instrument called a "recorder", which is a type of horn similar to an artist's impressionistic drawing of a clarinet. Bach wrote music for this instrument; the recorder is as old in the history of music as the drum.

From the [illegible] a pump organ so [illegible] it could be carried on horseback to furnish music for weddings will be on view as well as an old accordion.

Then to jump to modern day will be a demonstration of stereophonic sound.

Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman of entries, announces the list of some of the various exhibitors and their exhibits as follows: Mrs. G. W. McClellan, hooked rugs and her blue-ribbon documentary quilts.

Mrs. W. Gibbs will also participate in the oriental art section with her truly fabulous collection of Chinese seals and figures. Old religious books are an additional entry.

Mrs. Paul Hawkins of Hollywood will enter her unique collection of the president dolls series as wel as other dolls. These have won national, state and local awards.

Mrs. Catherine Jason will show Chinese tables, a priceless dragon lamp, her Fu dogs and bonsai tree.

Mrs. Rachel B. Reid is represented in many fields with old Meissen china, original Audubons, old silver, priceless books, original etchings.

Mrs. Frank Roush will have many of her early American primitives on view; a school master's desk of long ago, lamps, chairs, a collection of Toby mugs, a wigstand, books.

Dr. Gareth Ortman will have present his Civil War gun collection of which he has three types of every kind used.

Young James Pon will enter the numismatic area with rare, old coins.

Mrs. Parmer Ickes has a complete, exquisite set of miniature "fairy" lamps she will show, Mr. Ickes will enter his gun collection.

Mrs. Jeanne Cumminskey of Pasadena will display her lovely antique French dolls and the rare boy dolls.

Mrs. Harold Shepherd will enter a coverlet made in 1790 and a quilt of the same period, old silver, a clock reel and old books.

Mrs. Oscar Chagnon will display antique, priceless Sevres plates and an old French clock as well as silver.

Mrs. Bert Schaar will have two bisque busts, a pair of Grecian urns and a Paisley shawl in the show.

Mrs. Chester C. Anderson has some exquisite china to be viewed.

Mrs. A. V. Marchetti has her entries in the early American primitive field: a harvest table, [illegible] hutch, rugs, gorgeous pewter of the 1700's.

Tapestries purchased from the Berkheimer collection together with other priceless Japanese objects d'art will be entered by Mr. W. K. Ishizu of Pasadena. The fingernail tapestries, oriental screens, Fukusa covers, the rosewood and mother-of-pearl panels, ceremonial tea set, all objects of tremendous value and interest.

Mrs. Lucy I. Wyss will show her delightful braided rugs, her "yo-yo" quilt.

SECRET of longevity, according to Mrs. Lucy Wyss of Arcadia, is activity. Like Martha of Bible days, Mrs. Wyss is busy all the time, with handiwork, her charities, clubs and friends. She's 83, which proves her point.

Secret of Longevity Activity, Says Octogenarian

By CHARLOTTE HUBER

Activity is the secret of longevity, according to Mrs. Lucy J. Wyss who ought to know because she is now 83 years young and a champion quilt maker, rug braider, cook, club woman, church worker and funds collector for the Red Cross, Community Chest and Heart Fund.

Tomorrow night, also Friday and Saturday nights, she will be hostess at the Antique Hobby and Collectors Show to be held at Elks' Club, 27 West Huntington Dr., Arcadia. Much of her handwork, which ranges from needlecraft to homemade soap, will be on display too.

The show is being sponsored by Arcadia Woman's Club of which Mrs. Wyss is an active member. She has not missed a single club meeting in the last 10 years. She plays grandma roles in club theatricals, rides the Woman's Club float during Arcadia's Peach Blossom Festival and frequently wins door prizes at meetings.

"Would you believe it," she laughed, during a visit at her home, "once at the plant care meeting I won 25 pounds of fertilizer, carried it home myself, too. My garden and friends' gardens are still living on that fertilizer."

Settling down to talk, Mrs. Wyss said she had just collected $32 for the Red Cross from the people in her block.

She is also an active worker at the Arcadia Presbyterian Church which she joined in 1940. She keeps the Cradle Roll entering the birth and baptismal dates of each new child.

She is secretary of the Adult Bible Class where her bookkeeping and typing skill comes in [illegible], treasurer of the Women's Association of [illegible] church and [illegible] member of the Foreign Missions. She is also [illegible] of the Arcadia-Temple City [illegible] belongs to a [illegible] and the Arcadia Historical Society.

Mrs. Wyss, twice a widow with only two living relatives, a [illegible] in Cleveland and a stepson in Los Angeles, said [illegible] that her days are very full.

She gets up every morning at 6 a.m., does a crossword puzzle after breakfast and then divides her time between good works and handwork, both of which she dearly loves.

"I like to make things," she said, showing some of the pieces she will exhibit at the Antique Show.

There is a [illegible] bedspread which [illegible] 1,500 colorful [illegible] pinwheels, each fluted and stitched by hand to form a beautiful pattern on the yellow muslin ground of the spread. "It took almost a whole summer to make that," she said.

Her house is carpeted with handmade rugs braided in the double [illegible] pattern she originated, and she was at work on one for the show [illegible] and narrow bands of green.

"[illegible] pretty [illegible]," she said. "This place of mine is a clearing house for old rags and grease."

Beautifully Mounted Button Collection To Be Feature of Antique Hobby Show

Buttons, taken for granted by most people, create deep interest in Mrs. Marcia Stanton France of Alhambra, who has the world's largest collection of them. Mrs. France has approximately 100,000 buttons, all of equal interest and meaning and she will display a large share of her collection at the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show" on March 12, 13 and 14 at the Elk's Club, 27 West Huntington Drive, Arcadia.

Mrs. Marie Stanton France
. . . universal buttons

The buttons in Mrs. France's collection are beautiful and rare examples of art, history, romance and superstition. Mrs. France has two brass buttons commemorating the inauguration of George Washington. American history can be traced from that point to the present time via the campaign and political buttons in this remarkable group. The owner will be displaying the political buttons at the coming Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

Hand-made Confederate buttons vie with "Gas-hole" ones in this unusual collection. A belief held by our ancestors was that the first buttons made in two parts and placed together would hold accumulated gas and might explode, unless holes were made in the metal.

Romantic buttons reached an interesting peak during the First World War when American doughboys used buttons on their uniforms which appeared to be regulation, but were not, as they opened and held snapshots of their sweethearts. This practice was frowned on by authority: so there are not many locket-buttons left, but Mrs. France has them. In fact, she has one dated 1638 from the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company.

Romantic

"Infare" buttons are among the prized romance group. During Colonial times, a bride was married from her home, but she always spent the second day of her marriage with her husband's family as she was then "in his fare." The dress was always her second best [illegible] are the buttons from these [illegible]om these garments.

There were "superstition" but[illegible]ns neatly inscribed with little [illegible]minders such as "Kill a bee on [illegible]e first of May and keep it in [illegible] purse, you'll always have [illegible]oney."

Perfume buttons were greatly in [illegible]gue. They held silk, straw or velvet backgrounds which retained the fragrance of a drop of perfume placed on them.

Mrs. France has buttons made of milk glass in white, blue and pink, buttons of metal, Sheffield with pearl, black glass dipped in silver luster, china and bone.

Wide Publicity

Another fascinating group are the "Mourning and half-mourning' 'buttons used when Victoria was Queen of England. Queen Victoria was a firm believer in a year's full mourning after bereavement. Her Majesty frowned on the wearing of any fabric but dull black. The black buttons of the day glittered; so it became necessary to dull them. After a year, ladies were permitted half-mourning and dull and half-glittered buttons.

Mrs. France has appeared in national magazines, she has had wide publicity. She has prizes of all descriptions for her beautifully mounted collection.

Marcia Stanton started her accumulation of buttons as a little girl when she was given her grandmother's button box.

She has traded, swapped, exchanged until today she now owns the world's finest collection.

Mrs. France would appreciate any old buttons members of the public may have. Her way of augmenting her collection is through public interest in her hobby.

Tickets are priced at $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for students and may be purchased at the Arcadia Music Mart, from any member of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, sponsors of the show, or at the door.

GF Women's Clubs Sponsor Better Driver Licensing

State legislators throughout the nation will be alerted to feminine concern over state driver licensing laws as the result of a unique "Ballot for Better Driver Licensing" campaign to be conducted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, according to Mrs. B. V. Todd, national safety chairman.

In California, Mrs. A. F. Benton, president, and Mrs. E. L. Berdrow, safety chairman for California Federation of Women's Clubs, stated the ballots have been sent to every Federated Womn's club in the State for signatures. The deadlines for these ballots to be returned is March 25. The ballots are in quadruplicate. One set will be presented to Governor Pat Brown, another to Robert McCarthy, director of Motor Vehicles. Another set to be sent to Washington, D.C. to President Dwight D. Eisenhwer and one to the President of American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Cooperating with the California Federation on this project is the Women's Auxiliary to the California Optometric Assn., with Mrs. James R. Gregg of Los Angeles, president, and Mrs. Wayne Morrison of Arcadia, State Safety chairman, assisting.

The General Federation, which numbers more than seven million members in this country, recently adopted a "Passport to Safety" program to alert its members to the necessity for driver license legislative reforms to improve traffic conditions. The "Ballot for Better Driver Licensing" campaign will dramatize this program and express to state legislators the concern felt by women over the traffic accident problem, according to Mrs. Todd.

Juniors Assist With Easter Seal Campaign

Mrs. James W. Clark, Arcadia chairman for the Easter Seal Society, announces that the campaign will continue through March 29.

The coin containers for the Easter Seal Society have been placed throughout Arcadia by members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Clark states that funds from the Easter Seal containers provide assistance and training for physically handicapped children and adults, and that 80 per cent of the proceeds of the campaign will go to the handicapped

Services made possible through the Easter Seals include camping and recreation at Camp Paivika in the San Bernardino Mountains where more than 600 crippled children go each year. Thirteen day camps and a number of organized youth groups are maintained to help the handicapped with social and physical skills. Swimming programs and special play groups are provided in regional centers, as well as medical social service and occupational therapy.

The Society maintains a sheltered workshop in an industrial workshop to assist the handicapped in learning skills and to evaluate their ability for regular job placement.

NOTED ARTIST TO ADDRESS CLUBWOMEN

ARCADIA -- George Stuart painter, lecturer and sculptor, will present historical figures he has created, in a program, "They Looked Like This" at the Arcadia Woman's Club luncheon Wednesday. Lunch is to be served at 11:30 a.m. and the program, arranged by the Arts and Crafts Department, is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Stuart has created a galaxy of historical personalities, sculpting and painting them from portraits. The costumes are designed and executed to the minutest detail and portray the characters at the peak of their famous or infamous careers.

Stuart lives and maintains his studio at Ojai. He attended the University of California, Georgetown University and American University. In 1955-56 he prepared exhibits for the new building of the Smithsonian Institution.

When the work was finished, Stuart put his figures and research into lecture form.

Mrs. William Gibbs, president of the Woman's Club, announced that members may make luncheon reservations with Mrs. A. V. Marchetti or Mrs. H. W. Glidden.

Delegates Chosen By Arcadians

ARCADIA—At the recent meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, delegates were chosen to attend the third annual convention of the Verdugo District to be held on April 16 at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena as well as to the California Federation of Woman's Clubs annual convention in Fresno April 27 through 30. Mrs. William D. Gibbs, president will serve with both groups.

Attending the Verdugo Distrist convention will be Mmes. Phillip R. Sherk, E. J. Fuerst, L. C. Brooks, A. L. Weikert, R. H. Lane, Alan Langlois, John Richardson, George Killeen, Clark Bridgman, Harold E. Shepherd, G. G. Meade and Lawrence V. Shepherd.

Those accompanying Mrs. Gibbs to Fresno for the four day state convention will be Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, Phillip R. Sherk, Alby R. Foy, A. L. Weickert and William Adams.

The Arts and Crafts Department bedecked the clubhouse with harbingers of Easter, spring trees made of pastel clusters of maline, each individually decorated. Dolls of styrofoam with jewels at ears and throats keynoted the program of the day, George Stuart's presentation of "They Looked Like This."

Figures representing Louis XIV, XV and XVI of France and the history of the country under the three monarchs constituted Mr. Stuart's lecture which was developed with talent and originality as witty and clever as the "figures" of papier-mache and clay of Madame de Montespan, Marquise de Maintenon, Madame de Pompadour and Madame du Barry which the artist showed.

Ill fated Marie Antoinette, Queen of France, gorgeously attired in the costume of her day described as "a frigate in full sail" was also one of the "figures" sculpted, painted and dressed by George Stuart.

Luncheon was prepared and served by the following members of the International Relations Department of the club under the chairmanship of Mrs. N. E. Stadig, Mmes. J. C. Parnham, E. M. Hanna, A. L. Melzian, G. F. Fry, W. W. Jones, R. S. Cole, R. H. Lane, L. V. Shepherd, J. Richardson, Oscar Chagnon, D. J. Slattery and A. L. Wilson.

Seated at the head of the table and introduced by Mrs. Gibbs were Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, chairman of the Arts and Crafts Department, who introduced members of her board seated at the table, Mmes. E. P. Godfrey, L. K. Campbell, F. J. Gates, and A. L. Weickert.

The president of the Junior Woman's Club of Arcadia, Mrs. William Hutter, Mrs. Alby R. Foy, parliamentarian and first vice president of Verdugo District, Mrs. William Cosgrove, Mrs. Bert Schaat, Mrs. Lucy Wess and Mrs. John Renshaw, who gave the invocation, were also presented by Mrs. Gibbs.

Mrs. J. K. Weeks, chairman of the Bridge and Canasta Tournament, announced that Mrs. J. M. LeNoir and her partner Mrs. Claire Moore and Mrs. R. C. Matteson with Mrs. William Abernathy were leading the field in bridge with the next tournament scheduled for Thursday, April 16.

Guests of members attending were Mmes. Florence Blalock, Phillip Carr, Paul Hawkins, Olive Gordon, Florence Parker, Mona Emanuel, Ford Barclay and John Scull.

Junior Woman's Club Installs New Officers in Candlelight Ceremony

Arcadia Junior Woman's Club installed the newly elected officers on April 8 at the Embers Restaurant in Arcadia. Serving the Juniors as their new president will be Mrs. J. L. Horsley. Others elected to serve on the executive board with Mrs. Horsley are: Mrs. Richard Hunter, first vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Brisley, second vice-president; Mrs. Lee Darrow, third vice-president; Mrs. J. S. Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph Long, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Coulter, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Ward, federation secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Gagnon, dean of philanthropy; Mrs. Richard Carlson, program chairman; Mrs. K. B. Anderson, parliamentarian.

Mrs. William Hurter, retiring president, introduced honored guests: Mrs. DeForest Cutler, Verdugo Metropolitan District CFWC Junior president; Mrs. William Adams, coordinator, and Mrs. William Gibbs, senior president and Junior coordinator. A special welcome was extended to members of the Arcadia Juniors serving on the Verdugo Metropolitan District Board; Mrs. Edward Schaar, Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, Mrs. Robert Kidd and Mrs. Robert Dahlquist.

A resume of the retiring officers' terms, activities and duties was presented by each retiring officer in poetry form. Those leaving office were: Mrs. William Hurter, president; Mrs. Milton Vogel, Mrs. J. L. Horsley, Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Mrs. Lee Darrow, Mrs. Quinn Kern, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs Richard Kramb, Mrs. Richard Davidson, Mrs. Kenneth Gagnon and Mrs. Russell Farnam.

Rainbow Theme

The lovely candlelight ceremony was presented by Mrs. Gibbs. A rainbow theme was carried out, the colors of the rainbow representing the officers and their duties. Each officer carried a nosegay with a candle in the center and lit the candle from a large candle surrounded with flowers as a symbol of their office.

Mrs. Milton Vogel expressed the thanks of the club to Mrs. Hurter and presented her with gifts from the retiring board and club members.

Other presentations were given to those members who have had one hundred per cent attendance.

Very lovely table decorations were nosegays of spring flowers. The head table was decorated with a large floral spray of flowers donated by Hortense Flowers and Gifts of Arcadia.

Chairman for the event was Mrs. Robert Fiscus. Assisting were Mmes. Herbert Brisley, Gordon Campbell, Richard Davidson, F. G. Frank, Kenneth Gagnon, Walter Garrison, LaVerne Hubbard and Mrs. John Nelson.

PRESIDENT'S PERTINENT POINTS:

Many, many thanks to all of you for your participation at our 3rd Annual Convention. This includes all the Delegates who apparently had studied the Call and were well informed representatives of their Clubs and the guests who had no vote but showed so much interest in all that was going on. Also to our District Department Chairmen who gave awards in such a concise, informative manner, to the Hostesses and Pages, Credentials and Registration Chairman, Reservation Chairman, President's Aide and Amenities Chairman and all the Executive Committee members. Last but not least, a special thank you to our Convention Chairman, Mrs. Irvin Morley and to the Junior President and Mrs. Hohenbeen, Junior Coordinator, for very excellent reports. Thanks to all who participated in the District Chorus. You were wonderful.

I believe in my report given at the Convention proved the State Motto "Strength United is Stronger", as we not only took care of our Club Houses which are necessary to the Communities in which we live, but gave $23,479.21 to Scholarships, Camperships, Youth, Senior Citizens and many more other organizations and gave 56,380 hours of service. Unfortunately not all Clubs reported but the reports as presented are impressive.

The Bylaw amendment which made each Club President a member of the Verdugo District Board passed. Did you realize that on the District Board you had nine (9) elected officers and the Parliamentarian and Corresponding Secretary appointed by the President with ratification of the Executive Committee? The appointed Chairmen are representatives of the Clubs but have not represented the majority. Every Club should try to recommend Chairmen of Departments to serve on the District Board.

I extend a warm welcome to all Presidents as new members of the Board starting in June. A poll will be taken in the next week or so to set up a Board meeting date that will be agreeable to the majority of the Executive Board and the Presidents. The District Board meeting will not take the place of the President's Conferences (which includes the 1st Vice Presidents) for it will be there that you will bring your special questions.

The majority of the President's reports showed they wished Program Auditions and Officers Workshops in June. This is being worked out at the present time.

We hope to combine Parliamentary Law and Federation Extension Conferences in one day meetings. Not less than two, nor more than five per year.

Please do not blame the Bulletin Editor for the lateness of this Bulletin---it is my fault as I went to the Junior Convention the morning following ours and had not time to prepare this. I wish all of you could have been at the Junior Convention. It was terrific.

We are happy to welcome into our District Board Family Mrs. Don Richardson, Junior Membership President of Verdugo-Metropolitan District, Mrs. Dwight R. Young as District Junior Coordinator and Mrs. Richard L. Dodge, 1st Vice President of the Junior Membership.

Club Department Elects Officers For Coming Year

The Department of International Affairs of Arcadia Woman's Club elected new officers at last week's meeting, naming Mrs. Richard Cole as chairman.

The group met at the home of Mrs. George Fry and Mrs. John Richardson presided at the coffee.

Mrs. Aldon Melzian was elected program chairman; Mrs. Fry, secretary; Mrs. Esther Hanna, treasurer, and Mrs. N. E. Stadig, outgoing chairman, was named public relations chairman.

Mrs. Avery Turner of Pasadena, who with her husband is actively engaged in assisting young foreign students through the Rotary International, was presented by Mrs. Melzian.

Three exchange students from Pasadena City College were introduced. Representing Hungary, Japan and Bogota, the three spoke excellent English and gave vivid pictures of their lives at home. After the program, Mrs. Melzian, Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Fry entertained them at a buffet luncheon.

The newly elected officers will be installed May 27 at a luau and swim party at the home of Mrs. Oscar Chagnon.

Literature Group Awards Ribbons For Prose, Poetry

Ribbon awards for contributors to the booklet of poetry and prose completed recently by the Woman's Club Literature Department were presented at last week's meeting.

Mrs. Judith Moore, a special guest, made the presentations. She was introduced by Mrs. William Cole, chairman in charge of the project.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery won a first prize ribbon for her poem, "A Christmas Prayer" and a second prize for prose, "Roses in December." A first prize went to Mrs. Samuel Nock in prose, "Operation Hemline," and to Mrs. Mae Killingsworth for poem, "Cherished Whisp." Mrs. Moore complimented members and expressed her pleasure at presenting the awards.

Other special guests were Mrs. William F. Rooney, Verdugo District Literature and Drama chairman, and Mrs. A. E. Palmer from Canada, a literature teacher for many years. Mrs. Palmer is the sister of Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the department.

Mrs. William Moberg, hostess for the day, had the table decorated with lovely purple iris and a coffee hour preceded the meeting.

Mrs. Killingsworth gave a Bible thought for the day and Mrs. Richardson conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Rooney who thanked the department for all it had contributed during the year. She expressed her pleasure at having presented the department and award at the recent convention held at Huntington Hotel and gave a talk on literature and its beginnings.

'Come As You Are' Party Rounds Up Junior Club Gals

The ways and means committee of Arcadia Junior Woman's Club started its year's activities recently with a "come-as-you-are" kaffeeklatch. Members were surprised at their homes by the committee at 8:30 in the morning and taken to the home of Mrs. Lee Darrow, ways and means chairman. There were approximately 42 members who attended and 30 children were present.

Prizes were given for the "interestingly" dressed. Mrs. Jack McCarville took top honors and was given a lovely plant donated by the Mayflower Nursery of Monrovia.

Mrs. Richard Kramb, running a close second, received a beautiful pair of gloves donated by Minnie Moss Clark of Arcadia.

To wind up this unusual coffee, a drawing was held for door prizes which were donated by the Colonial Pharmacy of West Arcadia, the Arcadia Pharmacy, and the Peter Pan Dress Shop of Arcadia.

Woman's Club Holds Potluck Card Party

The monthly evening social potluck dinner and cards, a regular feature of the activities of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, was held last Saturday evening at the clubhouse.

This was the last of these popular events of the current club year. Members and their husbands attend, the price of admission being a food donation to the dinner. More than 60 persons turned out for the getaway event, according to Mrs. J. M. Le Noir, social hostess.

Prizes are awarded to the winners at bridge and canasta, and as an innovation this past season, cumulative scores at bridge were kept and bridge trophies awarded to the woman and man with the highest score.

Winners this year were Mrs. N. E. Stadig and Mr. J. K. Weems. The series will be resumed in October.
